NO. 141—SEVENTIETH YEAR | VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA, THURSDAY, MAY 24, 1928 | TWENTY PAGES

Queen Marguerite Is Crowned Before Vast Throng at Armories

Between 6,000 and 7,000 People Witness Coronation Ceremony and School Concert That Follows—Thousands Turned Away—Pageant Veritable Scene From Fairyland

Mrs. J. D. MacLean Congratulates Miss Jeeves and Salutes Her Queen

WITH all the pomp and ceremony befitting a royal personage, Miss Marguerite Jeeves, first year student of the Victoria High School, was crowned Queen of the May by Mrs. J. D. MacLean before a crowd of between 6,000 and 7,000 men, women and children at the Armories last night.

The spectacle presented to the vast audience as the queen stood before her throne, with her trainbearers, crownbearers, trumpeters, flower girls, princesses and attendants grouped around her, might easily have been taken from one of Hans Christian Anderson stories, so fairylike was the whole scene.

The entrance of the queen into the auditorium was heralded by a trumpeter, following which Miss Lillian Grant played the bagpipes as her majesty, princesses, ladies-in-waiting and the many others who made up the entourage proceeded around the gallery packed with people and marched down the central aisle of the large auditorium to take up her position near the throne on the stage.

First in the regal procession was Miss Lillian Grant, who played the bagpipes during the march to the throne. Next came the trumpeters, all dressed in red. Following these came flower girls, arrayed in pretty costumes to represent various Spring flowers. Then there were more trumpeters, who walked just in front of the queen, who looked quite regal in her flowing white robes, with long pearl necklace and medallion as the only jewels she chose to wear. Two dainty trainbearers, also dressed in white, followed. Behind the queen walked the twelve princesses, also dressed in white. Bringing up the rear came girls dressed in mauves and pinks with gauzy wings. These were the fairies, said to exist wherever there are Spring flowers. Next there were girls dressed as roses, sunflowers, poppies, daisies, dahlias and many other flowers.

After the queen and her entourage had taken up their positions on the stage, Magistrate George Jay, chairman of the City School Board, with Mr. W. H. Munsie, conducted Mrs. J. D. MacLean to the foot of the throne.

Mr. Jay, in a few words, congratulated Miss Jeeves on behalf of the school board on the high position she had attained among her school girls.

QUEEN CROWNED

Mrs. MacLean then placed the coronet of pearls, with medalion forehead-piece, upon Queen Marguerite's head, saying:

"I feel that it is a very great honor to be allowed to crown the Queen of the May. And I would like to add that your name is delightfully fitted for such a queen. On behalf of the thousands of boys and girls and their parents, I salute you, Queen Marguerite, and hope that your reign will not only be a happy one but will ever be a happy memory throughout your life."

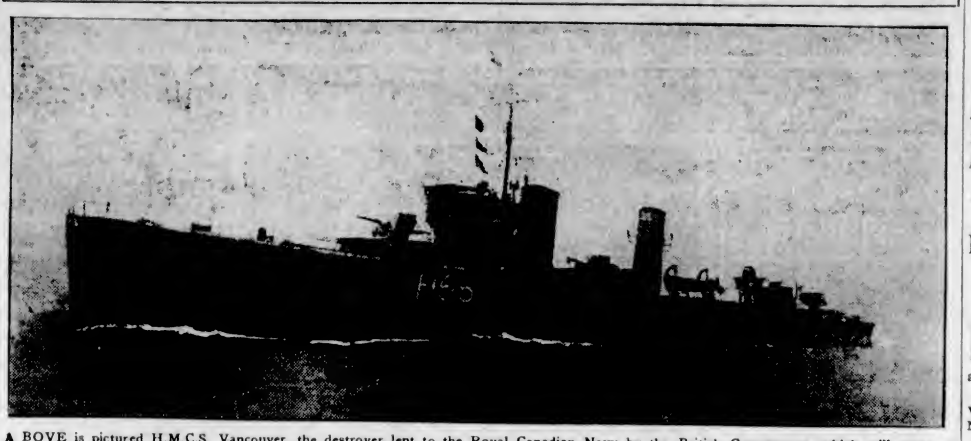

With a charming smile and graceful manner Queen Marguerite turned to the vast crowd and with just the slightest trace of emotion in her speech she said:

"I thank the loyal subjects of Victoria for their kindness in making me Queen of the May. I will try to be a good queen and merit the homage and love with which you have honored me."

Following this little speech her majesty was conducted by her

Vancouver City Council Calls Conference of Mayors and Reeves to Discuss New B.C.E.R. Situation

SEEK TO SAFEGUARD PUBLIC INTERESTS

VANCOUVER, May 23.—Mayors and reeves of Greater Vancouver, Victoria and the Lower Mainland of British Columbia will be called into conference here to discuss the financing of the British Columbia Electric Railway Company and its effect on the areas served by that corporation. This action was decided on by the Vancouver City Council at a special meeting this afternoon. It is anticipated that the conference will be held within the next ten days.

Today's meeting instructed City Solicitor J. B. Williams and City Comptroller A. J. Pilkington to interview George Kidd, president of the British Columbia Railway Company, and W. G. Murrin, vice-president, for the purpose of securing information and data on the reorganised company; and a meeting between them will be held Tuesday morning next.

CAPITALIZATION AND RATES

The company was recently purchased by Eastern and British interests at a reported price of $57,000,000 and recapitalized. Civic and municipal officials, it is stated, are desirous of ascertaining if an increase in the capital stock of the company from $25,000,000 to $60,000,000, as reported, will mean higher transportation, power and light rates to the people of the districts served by the company, if the present tariff is insufficient to meet the requirements of the new stock issue.

SEARCH IN ALASKA FOR MISSING PLANE

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, May 23.—To search the drear Arctic tundras for the two airplanes piloted by Noel Wien and Russell Merrill, which left Wiseman, May 11, for a proposed round trip flight to Point Barrow with a Fox Film Company party, Matt Nieminen, co-pilot of Merrill's in the Anchorage Air Transport Company, was preparing today to take off for Point Barrow in a cabin plane, said to be the speediest in Alaska.

The two airplanes were seven days overdue from Point Barrow today.

Home Bank Liquidation

TORONTO, May 23.—Depositors in the Home Bank will not receive their final dividend for some months, G. T. Clarkson, liquidator of the bank, stated today.

He also stated that the dividend would be between five and eight per cent, not more than eight.

ALASKA BOAT BREAKING UP SAY RESCUERS

Thundering Surf Is Pounding Vessel to Pieces on Rocks Near Unimak Pass in Bering Sea

PASSENGERS AND CREW TAKEN OFF

SEATTLE, May 23. — While a thundering surf pounded her to pieces on the rocks near Unimak Pass in the Bering Sea, 280 Chinese and forty Americans were taken off the windjammer, Star of Falkland, late today by the coastguard cutters, Haida and Unalga, the lighthouse tender Cedar and the steamship Arctic, advices received here by Captain John G. Berry, of the coastguard indicated.

The Star of Falkland is doomed, the message said.

Owned by the Alaska Packers' Association, the Star of Falkland sailed from San Francisco April 25 for Naknek, on Bristol Bay. The Chinese and some of the whites were to work in the cannery there. She went on the rocks shortly after midnight today, after having passed through the narrow pass connecting the Bering Sea and the Pacific Ocean, only a few days' sailing time from her destination.

BOMB OUTRAGE IN ARGENTINA

Anti-Fascists Spread Death and Mutilation Indiscriminately Among Crowd in Passport Bureau

SEVEN KNOWN DEAD; 34 BADLY INJURED

BUENOS AIRES, May 23.—One bomb outrage which took at least seven lives and injured nearly half a hundred others and discovery of a second bomb, explosion of which was narrowly averted, marked today what police considered the most violent anti-Fascist demonstration staged in this country in the two years or more.

Seven persons were killed outright when the first bomb exploded in the passport bureau of the newly occupied Italian consulate just before noon, and thirty-four others were sent either dying or seriously injured to hospitals. So badly mutilated were the bodies of those killed that it is feared still others were literally blown to pieces. Partial indentification of those known dead showed three Argentine men, one Spanish woman and three Italians.

Hardly had the reverberations of the first explosion ceased when employees of a pharmacy owned by a prominent Buenos Aires Fascist leader in the south docks section, averted a second blast when they stamped out a sputtering fuse on an infernal machine left there.

No More Survivors At Mather Coal Mine

MATHER, Pa., May 23.—Rescue work in the Mather mine, where more than 190 miners met death in a disastrous explosion, was suspended today, and tonight the mine was being ventilated thoroughly in preparation for the official investigation of the blast by state and national mine inspectors and county authorities.

The list of recovered bodies stood at 164, with some thirty miners still unaccounted for. Most of the missing are buried under heavy falls of slate and earth, rescuers said, and no immediate attempt will be made to dig them out.

Parade and Fireworks Display Are Features Of Today's Programme

WITH no less than twelve events listed on today's celebration programme, including the grand patriotic parade and the fireworks display in the Inner Harbor, the Victoria Day celebration committee assures citizens of Greater Victoria a series of entertainment to suit the most fastidious person.

The first event on today's programme is the arrival of the U. S. battleship Pennsylvania and H.M.C.S. Vancouver, which will be open to the public for general inspection. The ships are scheduled to arrive at 8 o'clock this morning.

At 9:45 o'clock the five-mile foot race will be run at the quarter-mile track at the Royal Athletic Park. This will be followed by an inter-city baseball game at 10:30. The teams are the Victoria Capitals and Chemainus.

Yacht racing for the John Virtue Cup, under the direction of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club, will start at half-past twelve. The finish of the race may be seen from Dallas Road and Beacon Hill.

THE PARADE START

Punctually at 2 o'clock the parade will start. The school children, military and naval detachments and floats will assemble at the Boys' Central School grounds. The parade will start at the corner of Yates and Cook Streets, proceeding down Yates to Government, along Government Street to Superior Street, along Superior Street to Douglas Street and thence to the Beacon Hill Park, opposite the flagstaff, where the parade will disperse. The 1,200 school children who will take part will be served refreshments at the end of the parade.

The children's sections of the parade probably will be the most outstanding feature. Queen Marguerite, with her attendants, will lead the school children in the parade. Nine naval and military detachments will be at its head, and there will be nine bands and many floats. The parade will be over a mile in length.

At 3:30 p.m. bicycle races will be held at the Royal Athletic Park. The bicycle race programme has been divided into two sections to allow time for the intercity English football game for the Owen Cup. The two teams are the Victoria Royal Blues and the Ladysmith Maroons.

WATER SPORTS

Water sports and outboard motorboat races will be held at the Gorge, commencing at 3:30 o'clock. These events will be staged just off the James Bay Athletic Association's float near the Gorge Bridge.

A second baseball game will be held at the Royal Athletic Park at 6 o'clock when the Victoria Capitals meet the Alberni team.

At 8:30 o'clock the Sixteenth Canadian Scottish Band will give a concert and also play the "Retreat" and "Flag Down." Punctually at 9 o'clock a salvo of six Amonol flash detonators will be fired off in the Inner Harbor to denote the starting of the pryotechnic display, which is to be carried out on a large scale.

The finale to a day crowded with events will be the Community Serpentine Dance and Frolic at the Crystal Garden where a 1928 Chevrolet coach will be given away.

Exploding Caps Set Off Load of Mine Dynamite

HARIAN, Ky., May 23.—The accidental explosion of a box of percussion caps which set off a load of dynamite was said today to have caused last night's explosion in the Kenvir coal mine. It cost at least seven lives and threatened seventy-five other workers, all of whom, however, are believed to have escaped.

Eight of those who saved their lives did so by erecting a brattice or barrier, that held back the fatal gas and fumes that followed the explosion.

The others made their way out of an outlet at the rear end of the mine.

WAKES UP ONCE EACH SIXTY YEARS

Royal Society Told of Earthquake Area in St. Lawrence Valley—Records Reviewed

WINNIPEG, May 23.—There is an earthquake centre in Eastern Canada subject to upheavals every sixty years, according to Ernest A. Hodgson, seismogist of the Dominion Observatory, Ottawa, in an address read by M. Y. Williams at today's session of the Royal Society of Canada.

While Canada was one of those fortunate countries not subject to serious earthquakes, it had nevertheless been found that severe earthquakes had been reported at intervals of about sixty years in the territory known as the St. Lawrence Valley.

Examining old documents bearing on the reported destruction of Three Rivers in 1663, Mr. Hodgson found much that pointed to exaggeration of the earthquake due to the excitement of the settlers. He concluded that the temblor was not much greater in intensity than those of 1791, 1860 or even the shock of 1925.

VIENNA FEARS PHOSGENE

VIENNA, May 23.—Existence of large quantities of phosgene, deadly poison gas, near Vienna was revealed today with petition by the mayors of outlying towns to the Government for its destruction.

EGG SHIPMENTS ATTAIN RECORD

IN FIVE MONTHS NEARLY 15,000 CASES SHIPPED FROM VANCOUVER ISLAND

Four Areas Contribute to Supply From Island, and One on Salt Spring Island

Egg shipments from Vancouver Island have made a remarkable expansion this year. In 1926, 376 cases were inspected, in 1927 the number of cases had risen to 12,175, while in the period from January 1 to May 23 the total reached 14,797.

In addition there are about 300 cases per month going through to Vancouver direct, and are there inspected, being counted with Lower Mainland shipments. These cases originate in the Victoria district.

The Comox shipments go to Vancouver, but are inspected before leaving the Island, so are included in the above summaries.

The sources of supply are Victoria, Cowichan, Nanoose and Comox districts on Vancouver Island, and Salt Spring Island among the Gulf Islands. Salt Spring eggs are shipped direct to Vancouver for loading. An idea of the volume of Salt Spring Island offerings is formed from the fact that 504 cases have been shipped from there within the past four weeks.

There are 450 cases to the carload lot, so that the inspections show upwards of thirty carloads from Vancouver Island shipped to eastern points.

Of the carload lots which went forward the bulk were assembled at Duncan, it being found to be the most central point for the majority of shippers.

Recently The Colonist carried a picture of a British freighter loading eggs for the Old Country markets from this Coast. Two of these shipments have gone forward, one to Bristol of 3,000 cases, of which Vancouver Island breeders supplied forty per cent of the consignment, and one of 4,700 cases, of which 1,500 cases came from the Island, routed to Glasgow.

The majority of these eggs come from White Leghorns, but Wyandottes and Barred Rocks, as well as Rhode Island Reds, heavier breeds also suitable for table birds, are becoming more popular, particularly in the northern part of the Island.

RUSSIA DENIES MOVING TROOPS INTO MONGOLIA

Not Preparing for Contest With Japan in China — Statement Made by Moscow Press Agency

HOKIEN RETAKEN BY PEKING ARMY

MOSCOW, May 23.—The Tass News Agency denies categorically reports in Chinese and Japanese newspapers that Russia has sent troops into Mongolia. The reports had this action as a result of recent Japanese military activities in China.

LONDON, May 23.—Stung by the steady drive of the Nationalists on Peking, the Northerners struck desperately at the Southern armies in Eastern Chihli today, recapturing the key city of Hokien and driving Feng Yu Hsiang's forces to the south, while the Nationalists continued their offensive at Paotingfu, important centre on the railroad to the Northern capital.

VIOLENT FIGHTING

Advises received in Tokio reported violent fighting in the vicinity of Hokien, a hundred miles south of Peking. The city was first captured by Feng Yu Hsiang, who drove out a Northern brigade and then changed hands again when an army of 60,000 men uder the command of Sun Chuan-Fang opened a terrific offensive and drove back the Southerners.

Further to the west at Paotingfu, eighty miles south of Peking, a Nationalist airplane bombarded the city, dropping a bomb at the railway station in the vicinity of a Northern military special train and at other places, causing great confusion.

Advices from Tokio say that the Japanese are preparing for withdrawal of their residents from Chengteh, 115 miles northeast of Peking should the situation become more dangerous.

Governor-General On Canada's Place In World's Affairs

KINGSTON, May 1.—"I realize, and I hope you realize, that you are rapidly becoming one of the most important countries in all the civilized world. Since coming to Canada I have come to realize that those who have gone before have built up this Dominion in a most amazing way, so that it now has become an enormous influence in all matters, not only in the British Empire, but in the world. Among your responsibilities is to carry on the great work which these men began and see that you are worthy of your inheritance," said Viscount Willingdon, Governor-General of Canada, addressing the cadets of the Royal Military College today.

DR. DOROTHY LOGAN MAY STILL PRACTICE

LONDON, May 23.—Dr. Dorothy Cochrane Logan, who was fined last Fall on conviction of making a false statutory declaration in support of her Channel swimming hoax, has escaped the worse penalty of banishment from her profession.

The council, after deliberating on the case, concluded that the punishment already imposed, a court fine of £100 and costs, would be sufficient to make her more careful in the future.

JAIL SENTENCE FOR "EARL OF DUNBLANE"

TORONTO, May 23. — J. Walker Greig, self-styled Earl of Dunblane, was sentenced to two years in Portsmouth penitentiary today for violating a bail bond by Judge Coatesworth. He will appear again on June 5, to face a charge of conspiracy.

MUSICIAN DIES

Negotiations Proceed For Disposal of P.G.E. To Canadian National

Minister of Railways Answers Question in Affirmative in House of Commons, and Premier MacLean Says Progress Is Being Made With Transfer to National Railways

Important Question Pending in View Of Approaching Appeal to Electorate

DEVELOPMENTS in connection with the negotiations for the transfer of control of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway are apparently due for announcement, judging by an answer on the question made in the House of Commons yesterday.

It was stated by the Minister of Railways that negotiations were being carried on for the sale of the line to the Canadian National Railways.

Interviewed last evening on the subject the Premier confirmed the reported negotiations with the British Columbia Government. Dr. MacLean stated that the matter was proceeding very satisfactorily. Further than that observation he did not wish to go, pending further information, which he expected to receive today.

He was not prepared, therefore, to add to the message, nor to venture an opinion on how long it would be before a definite conclusion was reached on the subject.

THE DISPATCH

A Canadian Press dispatch from Ottawa stated that in the House of Commons yesterday the question was asked of the Government:

"Are any negotiations being carried on between the Government of Canada or the Canadian National Railways and the Government of British Columbia for the sale of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway to the C.N.R."?

"Negotiations with the British Columbia Government are now proceeding," was the answer given by the Minister of Railways, Hon. C. A. Dunning.

The question was placed on the order paper several days ago by Mr. A. W. Neill, Independent, Comox-Alberni, and together with the answer was tabled in the House today.

LONG NEGOTIATIONS

The Premier, during the progress of last session, held out the hope that the road would be disposed of, and the province relieved of any further worries with respect to it. As the session went on, no assurance of a satisfactory deal was forthcoming, and in the closing days the Premier was obliged to implement his promise made earlier, that he would start on the extension of the line if no sale were completed, and accordingly in keeping with this promise asked that authority be given for the floating of a loan for the distinct purpose of constructing and repairing the line.

At the same time the assurance was again given by the Premier that action would not be taken along these lines until negotiations for the sale had positively failed. It was also promised that the negotiations would be continued looking to the sale of the line.

MR. PATTULLO'S MESSAGE

These negotiations, it is said, have been kept up, and one of the

24,000 May Vote In Victoria at Coming Election

APPROXIMATELY 24,000 residents of Victoria electoral district (which includes Oak Bay) may vote at the next provincial election.

Mr. George H. Mabon, registrar of voters for Victoria and Esquimalt electoral districts, stated last night that the court of revision had completed consideration of the 500 objections which had been filed against names included in the Victoria list, and of that number, about one-half had been struck from the list, and the others had been left on.

A special sitting of the Esquimalt court of revision will be held tomorrow at Cobble Hill, when Registrar Mabon will be at the Cobble Hill Hotel between the hours of 3 p.m. and 7 p.m., to hear any objections against names of persons residing at Shawnigan Lake and Cobble Hill on the list.

Conservatives Alone Vote for Early Action

OTTAWA, May 23.—The third Conservative amendment to supply was defeated in the House today by a majority of fifty-eight. The voting was: Against, 109; for, 51. In the division Conservatives alone voted for the amendment. Liberals, Liberal-Progressives, Progressives and U.F.A. present all voted against the amendment. The amendment regretted that the Government had not implemented in full the recommendations of the Duncan commission on Maritime Rights and particularly the recommendation in regard to the steel industry.

LIEUT.-GOVERNOR VISITS COLLEGE

Students of Columbian College Addressed—Congratulations on Record Made

NEW WESTMINSTER, May 23.—"Here is my message to you! Continue in a spirit of optimism, which has made this country what it is. Optimism is the only thing that will carry British Columbia to its full fruition." The Hon. Rahdolph Bruce, Lieutenant-Governor of the province, delivered these words to a gathering of students of the Columbian College in a brief visit today.

The Lieutenant-Governor, with Miss Mackenzie, was received by Dr. A. M. Sanford, principal, and Mrs. Sanford. Waiting to assist in welcoming the Government party were Mayor A. Wells Gray, M.P.P., and Mrs. Gray; Lieutenant-Colonel A. L. Coote, A. D. Paterson, M.P.P., representatives of the city council and of the school board, members of the Ministerial Association and of the Women's Auxiliary.

The Lieutenant-Governor declared it was a matter of satisfaction that education was not neglected in the face of national prosperity. Congratulating the college on its record, he pointed out that the future citizen was the "first asset of any country."

BERRY MARKET IS THREATENED

Large Quantities Likely to Be Dumped Soon Unless Duty Imposed — Ottawa Asked to Act

ORDER-IN-COUNCIL IS REQUIRED NOW

(Special to The Colonist)

OTTAWA, Ont., May 23. — Fruit growers and market gardeners are not encouraged to expect protection against dumping competitive United States products into Canada by the Government's declaration today. Three ministers stated that there was no order-in-council under which the Government could act to apply the dumping clause.

When the deputation of fruit and vegetable growers met the Government in April to protest against the cancellation of the order-in-council which conferred on the Minister of Finance authority to fix values for customs purposes on natural products, Premier King assured the deputation that there remained ample authority for the Government to act in this respect, and that anti-dumping duties could be put into effect in a few hours. On Hon. Dr. Tolmie's motion last week the Prime Minister took the same position. Today H. J. Barber returned to the subject and said: "I wish to direct the attention of the Minister of Agriculture, and also the Minister of National Revenue to a matter of very great importance to the strawberry growers of British Columbia. I am advised that local berries will be on the market in a few days, and within the next few weeks a number of cars will be available for marketing.

SERIOUS SITUATION

"I have here a telegram from Mission City, signed by the following concerns: Fruit & Mercantile Exchange, Limited; Wilson Fruit & Produce Company; Central Fruit Distributors, Limited; Maple Ridge Co-operative Exchange; Japanese Consolidated Farmers' Exchange. These concerns represent about 2,000 growers, and in their telegram they indicate that there is likely to be a heavy dumping of American berries on the Canadian market.

"They advise me that they have wired the Minister of Agriculture requesting that a fair market value be fixed on imported berries at 12 cents per pound. I believe other wires have also been sent from other parts of British Columbia. The reply of the minister, as handed to me, is to the effect that he had forwarded these inquiries to the Minister of National Revenue with suggestions that an opportunity be taken at the earliest possible date to discuss them. This is a very important matter; it means the difference between success and failure. Will the minister tell us whether he has discussed the matter with the Minister of National Revenue, and whether he has complied with the request of these growers. If not, does he intend to do so?"

NO AUTHORITY TO ACT

Hon. W. R. Motherwell: "I acknowledged all these communications, informing the various parties that I had referred their telegrams to the Minister of National Revenue, expressing a desire, before any action was taken, to have an opportunity of discussing the matter with him. I have done so since then and I understand that under the existing law we have no authority to put these dumping clauses on."

Hon. H. H. Stevens: "Following the question propounded to the Minister of Agriculture, may I ask the Minister of National Revenue whether this very important matter has been called to his attention. If so, what is the decision of his department in regard to invoking the provisions of the Customs Act and the Tariff Act to give the necessary protection to this industry?"

Hon. W. D. Euler: "The statement made by the Minister of Agriculture as to having discussed the question with me is, of course, correct. With regard to anything else, my answer would be complete, for the moment at least, if I informed the House that there is no order-in-council under which the Minister of National revenue can act."

Mr. Stevens: "May I ask one further question? We will go to the Minister of Justice. Will the Minister of Justice be good enough to say whether or not under the Customs Act, Section 43, and any provisions of the Tariff Act, there is power which would enable the Government by an order-in-council or otherwise to give the necessary protection to this industry?"

Hon. Ernest Lapointe: "The function of the Minister of Justice in that respect is to advise the Minister of National Revenue, and he has done so."

Mr. Stevens: "Will the minister say whether, as Minister of Justice, he has advised the Minister of National Revenue that there is no power?"

Mr. Lapointe: "The Department of Justice has advised the Minister of National Revenue."

A meeting has been called on Ontario, Quebec and British Columbia members, irrespective of politics, who are interested in protection for the fruit and vegetable industries. It is expected this meeting will place before Premier King his explanation and promise to the fruit and vegetable growers' deputation, and ask an explanation.

Runner Will Make Canada His Home

ALFRED Shrubb, alderman of the famous old college town of Oxford, England, and erstwhile host of the Oxford Vaults, a popular hostelry in that ancient town, but better known as "Alfie Shrubb of England," in his prime the king pin of all foot runners from five to twelve miles, has just arrived in Bowmanville, Ont., and was given a hearty welcome back to Canada by a score or more prominent citizens of the thriving Eastern town. Mr. Shrubb was accompanied by Mrs. Shrubb and his two daughters, Nora and Nancy. The Shrubb family are back in Canada to stay and will be shortly joined by Roy Shrubb, the only boy of the family, now a young man of twenty-one years, who is studying chemistry in England. The photos shown above were taken at Bowmanville station. KILLED BY FALL INTO SHIP'S HOLD

PORTLAND, Ore., May 23.—T. Wesley, forty-two, was killed today when he slipped and fell thirty-five feet into the hold of the States Steamship Company's freighter West Cayote, undergoing repairs at a local drydock.

Wesley had been employed by the company but one day. He was uncovering a hatch when the accident occurred. His skull was fractured and he was injured internally.

ALLEGED REDS SLAIN

CANTON, China, May 23.—One hundred and fifty alleged Reds were slain on the Island of Hainan on Monday by troops of the Kwangtung Government. The troops are attempting to wipe out a Red stronghold on the island.

Two men were discussing their young sons, and the first declared he intended to make his boy an astronomer. "Ea," drawled the other, "but what's he going to do in the daytime?"

CANADA SPENDS LITTLE ON ARMY

Estimates for Department of National Defence Comes Before Ottawa Commons

OTTAWA, May 23.—Estimates for the Department of National Defence came before the House of Commons for the first time this session tonight. On a vote of $317,000 for administration, J. S. Woodsworth, Labor, Winnipeg North Centre, said he felt obliged to protest against the heavy increase this year.

T. W. Church, Toronto Northwest, said this country was just sponging on the Motherland to protect the Atlantic and Pacific coasts. When Great Britain was at war, Canada was at war. Canada had a contemptible little navy that had to have an order-in-council before it could steam out into the Atlantic.

Hon. J. L. Ralston, Minister of National Defence, defended Canada's militia expenditures as essential for purposes of defence and the maintenance of our position as neutrals. Of all countries, the Dominion spent least per capita for military purposes, Col. Ralston said.

Italia Cruises Over North Pole For Hour Nearly

OSLO, Norway, May 24.—General Umberto Nobile, in his dirigible, Italia, cruised over the North Pole for almost an hour early today.

Reaching the Pole from Kings Bay, Spitzbergen, some 750 miles away, about 1 a.m., the airship circled near it until about 2 a.m., then the Italia headed South for Spitzbergen.

Negotiations Proceed For Disposal of P.G.E. To Canadian National

main objects of the visit of Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, to the East recently was with the object in view of trying to bring about consummation of certain negotiations that were in more or less nebulous condition.

It is presumed that the present negotiations on this subject are the result of the visit of Mr. Pattullo.

Premier MacLean and the members of his Government are most deeply interested in the matter of the negotiations. This is due to the fact that the Premier stands pledged to begin work on the completion of the P.G.E. line if satisfactory conclusions are not reached looking to the disposing of the road to some other interests.

A VEXED ISSUE

That responsibility was taken by the Premier during the late session of the House, and with a very large sum of money involved in the scheme of completion, it is naturally a matter of concern to him to have the road disposed of, and thus removed in some measure from the realm of party politics.

This is especially desirable from the standpoint of the Government, in view of the early approach of an election. The P.G.E. is a vexed question, and opinions throughout the province differ very materially on the subject of the completion of the road. While there are certain ridings that would be directly benefitted by its construction, and which are anxious to see the work undertaken looking to the early completion, yet there remains no doubt that in many other parts of British Columbia the opinion is very antagonistic to the expenditure of more money on the line except, perhaps, what is necessary to keep the road, as now constructed, in operating shape. There are many in the province who would even vote to scrap the road now built.

attendants to a place of honor in the front row to be entertained by the hundreds of school children, who put on a most delightful programme.

Victoria's first schoolgirl Queen of the May won her way into the hearts of the thousands of people present as she sat and reviewed the pageant put on in her honor and for the entertainment of the thousands present. Her charming smile, unaffected manner and graceful poise fitted her for the honored position that she held.

LIST OF PRINCESSES

The princesses who attended Queen Marguerite were as follows: Grace Zala, of the Bank Street School; Margaret Jupp, of Beacon Hill School; Nellie Tickle, of the Kingston Street School; Dorothy Hick, of the Quadra Primary; Beryl Earl, of Spring Ridge School; Phyllis Addison, of the Burnside School; Patty Pearce, of the Quadra School; Helen Claque, of the Girls' Central School; Catherine Miles, of the George Jay School; Belle Schwartz, of Margaret Jenkins School; Jean Baldwin, of the North Ward School; Barbara Draper, of the Oaklands School; Verna Beak, of Sir James Douglas School; Ella Monk, of South Park School, and Viviene Wood, of the Victoria West School.

Prior to the entrance of Queen Marguerite, the massed festival choirs of the Victoria public schools rendered several selections under the conductorship of Mr. Fred Waddington. The Victoria High School orchestra accompanied. The choir led in the singing of "O Canada." This was followed by the singing of "Land of Hope and Glory," "Merry Winds of Springtime," and "Sanctus."

"The Flower Song," rendered by children of the Bank Street School, was very pretty. Four groups of girls dressed to represent poppies, roses, daisies and buttercups, each sang a verse of the song.

BOYS STAGE DRILL

A drill demonstration put on by boys of the North Ward School showed with what precision different exercises could be carried out under the instruction of an able drill master.

"The Minuet," by two graceful dancers of the Margaret Jenkins School in well conceived costumes, won an ovation from the vast audience.

Loud applause greeted the rendition of Mother Goose songs by the children of the Quadra Primary School, who were all dressed to represent characters from Mother Goose.

The Dutch costume dance given by pupils of the Burnside School was well received. The dance was excellently performed. The pupils entered into the spirit of the occasion.

Mimetic exercises by girls of the Victoria High School showed what grace could be developed with proper exercises under an able instructor.

"The Sailors' Hornpipe," which was the Oaklands School contribution to the entertainment, was well done and received much applause.

Take any scene from either "Huckleberry Finn" or "Tom Sawyer," and the spirit in which some fifty boys of the George Jay School entered into their portion of the night's entertainment can be readily conceived. Their appearance on the scene was the occasion for a tumult of laughter.

The George Jay Syncopators, arrayed in the most grotesque uniforms, marched around the gallery playing the "Robbers' Chorus" from "Chu Chin Chow." There will be many a kitchen minus nutmeg scrapers, kettles, saucepans, whisks, dustpans and the multitudinous implements that go to round out the model kitchen, for there was not a lad present whose uniform was not made up of household articles. Helmets, shoulder straps, even the instruments themselves were secured from "Mother's" kitchen. In fact it was a veritable kitchen band. The drum major conducted his band in fine style as he wielded his drain plunger baton while leading the parade.

DANCES ENJOYED

The Lancers from South Park School recalled memories of olden days to many of those present, while the skaters' dance was gracefully performed. The Venetian Night dance, given by Victoria High School pupils, rounded out a well conceived programme of entertainment. During the intermissions, the Victoria Boys' Band, under the leadership of Mr. George Green, played selections.

While there were between 6,000 and 7,000 people inside the drill hall, thousands were turned away owing to lack of accommodation.

Much credit must be given to Municipal School Inspector George Dean, who devoted considerable time in organizing the ceremony and the concert that followed.

Premier J. D. MacLean, at the conclusion of the concert, was pleased to congratulate the school trustees in having such an efficient staff of teachers to put on so spectacular a pageant.

TELLS DYSPEPTICS WHAT TO EAT

Avoid Indigestion, Sour Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Gas on Stomach, Etc.

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due nine times out of ten to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic "acid stomach" is exceedingly dangerous and sufferers should do either one of two things.

Either they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding foods that disagree with them, that irritate the stomach and lead to excess acid secretion, or they can eat as they please in reason and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acid and prevent the formation of gas, sourness or premature fermentation by the use of a little Bisurated Magnesia at their meals.

There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antacid than Bisurated Magnesia, and it is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach and is not a digestant. But a teaspoonful of the powder or a couple of five-grain tablets taken in a little water with the food will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent its further formation. This removes the whole cause of the trouble and the meal digests naturally and healthfully without need of pepsin pills or artificial digestants.

Get a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia from any reliable druggist. Ask for either powder or tablets. It never comes as a liquid, milk or citrate and in the bisurated form is not a laxative. Try this plan and eat what you want at your next meal and see if this isn't the best advice you ever had on "what to eat." (Advt.)

ACCOUNTING FOR IT

The midnight reveller had dropped asleep on a bench along the Embankment. When he awoke it was raining. The reflection of the lights on the wet pavement produced on his muddled senses the impression of a sheet of water.

"Bless me!" he exclaimed, "the sea!"

Whereupon he took a header and dropped heavily on the asphalt. Bruised and shaken, he scrambled to his feet and murmured in a surprised tone: "Frozen, I declare!"

A moving picture producer on filming "The Passion Play," noticed that there were twelve Apostles. "Oh, that won't do," he said; "this is a big production. That number will have to be increased to twenty-four."

UNSTATED DAMAGES SOUGHT IN ACTION

Charles and Sarah Newcombe Launch Suit Against Saanich Corporation Here

Seeking unstated damages for the flooding of their property in Saanich municipality, Charles and Sarah Newcombe, of Mackenzie Avenue, launched suit yesterday against the Corporation of the District of Saanich in the Supreme Court here before Mr. Justice W. A. MacDonald.

The plaintiffs claimed that their lands were flooded by the diverting of water from a certain ditch on Kenneth and Quadra Streets in Saanich municipality, and that such wrongful diversion of water was caused by the negligent and unlawful construction of the said ditch by Saanich, and the failure of the municipality to complete its construction and properly maintain it.

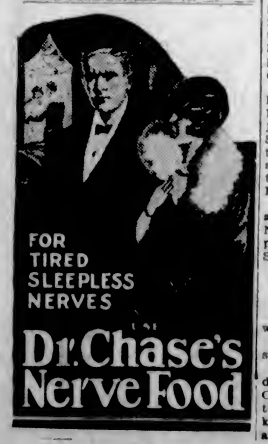

As a result of the alleged negligence, plaintiffs contended they had suffered through the flooding of their property a loss of crops, damage to fences on their land, and injury and depreciation in value of the property.

Plaintiffs asked for a mandamus commanding the defendant municipality to complete the construction and maintain the drainage system of the ditch on both streets, also for an injunction and other relief, and for the costs of the action.

On behalf of the municipality it is claimed that no flooding resulted from any act of the corporation, and that it was open to the plaintiffs to have relieved their land of any surplus water by means of a private ditch.

Witnesses for the plaintiffs were heard yesterday, and at 4:15 p.m. His Lordship and court officials adjourned to Kenneth and Quadra Street, viewed the ditch and saw the property of plaintiffs which was alleged to have been flooded. The trial will be resumed at the Court House at 10:30 a.m. next Monday.

Mr. Patrick J. Sinnott appeared as counsel for Charles and Sarah Newcombe, while the defendant corporation was represented by H. G. S. Heisterman and Ernest L. Tait.

CAPTAIN OWENS SPEAKS FRIDAY

COMMANDER OF U.S.S. PENNSYLVANIA TO ADDRESS CANADIAN CLUB

"International Friendship" Will Be Theme of Discourse—Members to Greet Naval Leader

Captain C. T. Owens, commanding the United States Ship Pennsylvania, will address members of the Canadian Club of Victoria tomorrow at 1 p.m. at a luncheon in the Empress Hotel ballroom on the subject, "International Friendship." Mr. Kenneth Ferguson, president of the Canadian Club, will preside, and introduce the speaker-guest.

The members of the Women's Canadian Club will have the privilege of hearing Captain Owens' address following the luncheon, and it is expected that there will be a large representation of members of both the Men's and Women's Canadian Clubs present tomorrow to greet the U.S.S. Pennsylvania's commander.

The American battlecruiser which will arrive this morning in Victoria to make a courtesy visit here in connection with the annual Victoria Day celebration, has from the day when she was first placed in commission, always carried an admiral's flag. As the pride and latest addition to the United States Navy in 1916, the Pennsylvania was made flagship of the United States fleet, and Admiral Henry T. Mayo, U.S. Navy, flew his four-starred flag from her mainmast at that time throughout the World War. The Pennsylvania is now the flag battleship of Division Three of the United States Battle Fleet.

The U.S.S. Pennsylvania, throughout her career of more than twelve years, has been known in the United States Fleet as the "Keystone Ship," and around that title her crew has built a reputation that many other ships envy. No matter how many and how often the changes in personnel, the reputation, tradition and esprit de corps of the Keystone Ship continue from year to year.

During her twelve years of service the U.S.S. Pennsylvania has steamed more than 200,000 miles, or eight times the distance around the world.

CITY ASSURED PIANO FACTORY

MR. JAMES FOWLER APPROVES OF AGREEMENT FOR SALE OF DALLAS HOTEL

Branch Plant Will Be in Operation Before End of Year, Producing 800 Pianos Yearly

Mr. James Fowler, head of the Bell Piano Company, of Ontario, and who has been negotiating with the city on behalf of the Dominion Piano Company and Evans Bros.' piano factory, besides his own, in connection with the establishment of a $150,000 branch factory here, wired to the industrial committee of the City Council yesterday that the agreement drawn up by the city with respect to the sale of the Dallas Hotel was perfectly satisfactory to him and his associates.

All that remains now is for the city and Mr. Fowler to officially sign the agreement, after which the establishment of the factory here may proceed.

The three above named piano concerns, of Ontario, have combined for the purpose of the project to establish a branch factory in the West.

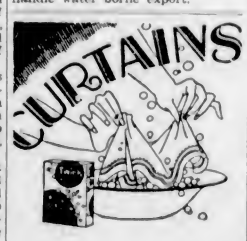

The city will sell the Dallas Hotel to the company, which will be known as the British Columbia Piano Factory Company, Limited, for the nominal price of $250. It will also give the company the lowest possible industrial rates on water.

In return for these concessions the company will establish a branch factory here for the manufacture of pianos, radio and gramophone cabinets and other allied products. Machinery valued at $65,000 will be installed in the building. Some $10,000 will be spent on alterations to the building itself, necessary to make it suitable for factory use.

The company guarantees to have the factory in operation by December 31, of this year. It will employ not less than fifty men at the start, and not less than seventy-five after March 31.

It also agrees to manufacture not less than 800 pianos for a period of ten years. Taxes will be paid on the property in full from the date that the Dallas Hotel is taken over.

The purpose of the company in establishing a factory here is to take advantage of the lower freight rates East as far as Winnipeg, and to be in a more favorable location to handle water borne export.

Magician of the World's Finest Airport

THE most interesting thing at the new British airport at Croydon, which was officially opened by Lady Maud Hoare, wife of the British Air Marshal, recently, is the signal cabin of the air. The man in charge there is able to control transport vehicles day and night, when they are flying hundreds of miles away. If they approach one another too closely he can avoid a collision by ordering one to change his course. If a machine is lost in a fog he can direct it to the nearest landing ground, and also can recall a machine to pick up a passenger, or tell a plane flying to France to go to Holland instead. In fact, he can shunt his machines about like a railwayman shunting his engines. The above layout shows the interior of this wonder cabin, with the officer in charge standing by the map of the airways, which indicates the position of airplanes with the aid of magnetic arrows, and, inset, Lady Hoare unveiling the tablet at the opening ceremony. Sir Samuel Hoare is on the right with Sir Sefton Brancker.

News and Notes of Realty in Victoria and District

By H. D. PATTERSON

The most significant feature of the market of the past two weeks is the amount of vacant residential lots that have changed hands. Summer homesites are also commencing to move. Messrs. Branson, Brown & Company, Limited, report the sale of the first two waterfront lots in the new subdivision of Malahat Park. There are only twenty-four waterfront sites in this property and they report many promising inquiries. Three sites in Saseenos have been sold for Summer homes. The large residence belonging to Sir Percy Lake, with two acres of ground, situate on Foul Bay Road, has recently changed hands, the purchaser being a retired military man from Ontario.

The following sales were reported by brokers visited:

Alfred Carmichael & Company, Limited—A large view site on Uplands Road, The Uplands, to a newcomer from Winnipeg, who will build a fine residence; three waterfront sites in Saseenos to local buyers, who will build Summer homes, a parcel of unimproved land containing seventy-two acres in Saseenos to a resident of that locality, who will improve it, and a residential site of two lots on the corner of Pakington and Cook Streets to a local buyer, who will build a fine bungalow. In the latter case, Mr. Carmichael reports that the purchaser took an extra lot in order to secure a very fine oak tree, which is quite a landmark in that locality.

A GIANT FOR STRENGTH

This Veteran Goodyear Conveyor Moves Nearly 1½ Million Tons of Wet Coal

OUTSTANDING ECONOMY

PLANT officials don't enthuse about the performance of their equipment. They expect long service and hard work.

Yet here's a Goodyear Conveyor Belt which so excited the admiration of Dominion Iron & Steel Company men at Sydney that they told the story of its long record.

Put into service on October 29, 1923, this Goodyear Belt is still working, after having moved nearly one and one-half million tons of wet coal.

Abrasion! Think of it! Weight! Picture it! Visualize, if you can, the relentless pounding, as this never-ending stream of jagged coal pours on and off the belt.

For four and a half years this Goodyear Belt has done its duty . . . simply because Goodyear first learned about the job to be done and then built a belt to do it.

And this belt is typical of the quality built into the whole Goodyear line of industrial rubber goods . . . belts, hose, packing, valves. Quality like this makes for greater economy and uninterrupted production in any plant.

Why not ask to-day for a trained Goodyear man to discuss your plant problems with you? He has a wealth of experience, but, still more important, he has the sincere desire to assist you in getting better service at less cost from your equipment. A post-card or 'phone call will bring him.

EDUCATION AND EUGENICS

In the British House of Commons one day the question was asked whether the ministry had in a certain matter acted of its own free will or from ineluctable necessity. An obviously awkward question, but Mr. Arthur Balfour disposed of it with Balfourian adroitness. Questions of fate and free will, he replied, have baffled philosophers for ages. The determinists and libertarians of the educational world are engaged in a controversy regarding the relative efficacy of education and eugenics as a cure for the ills that beset our civilization. Eugenic theory and propaganda are largely founded upon and assume the truth of the proposition that the upper social strata, as compared with the lower, contain a larger proportion of persons of superior natural endowments. The professor of psychology at Harvard, commenting upon a statistical table showing the results of intelligence tests of white and colored literates and illiterates, says that the facts point to one conclusion, namely, that innate capacity for intellectual growth is the predominant factor in determining the distribution of intelligence in adults and that the amount and kind of education is a factor of subordinate importance. Inborn intellectual capacity, in fact, is continuously distributed in much the same fashion as a physical quality such as stature. As to the influence of heredity, he is of opinion that the numerous tests, which show a marked superiority of the children in schools frequented by the higher intellectual and social classes, furnish pretty good evidence that capacity to develop intelligence is hereditary and also closely correlated with social status.

These propositions, stoutly maintained by most of the eugenists from Galton onward, have been vehemently denied and ridiculed in language not less forceful and confident. W. C. Bagley, a schoolman of national repute, declares that the validity of mental measurements, and of inferences drawn from alleged facts disclosed by the measurements, is based on the assumption that the environment, experience, education, stimulation, and inspiration of the persons compared have been identical, an assumption which is justified only in the simplest tests which detect differences between some mentality and no mentality at all; but its validity is rapidly weakened as we pass from the lowest to the higher mental ages. In short, what the tests measure is not native ability but acquired ability. Cyril Burt, a competent English investigator, says that a child's "mental age" is a measure of the amount of native intelligence with which he is congenitally endowed, of the plane of intelligence in which his growth has been achieved, and chiefly of the information he has accumulated in school. Burt finds that native intelligence contributes 35 per cent, informal education 11 per cent, and schooling 54 per cent.

On the one hand a prominent American educational journal declares that schools are simply selective agencies by which the less capable are sifted out through meshes of larger and large size. The survivors of the process have undergone no development; they have merely been certified for the affairs of life. From the other side comes the retort that according to unimpeachable evidence those communities which had good schools in 1900 exhibit a high degree of mentality in their intelligence scores in 1918, while those with poor schools in the former years have poor rewards. Who shall decide when doctors disagree? "Human qualities, mental and physical, are hereditary," says one authority, "and any human stock is capable of being improved by training and education and good environmental influences very slowly, if at all, and probably not at all." "But," says another, "there is no more trustworthy index of a nation's place on the scale of civilization and progress than the attention it gives to mass education; witness England with 16.7 per cent of its population enrolled in the elementary schools, and Russia with 3 per cent." "If our present civilization is to be saved from destruction," say the eugenists, "it can only be by an increase in the birthrate of the intrinsically better part of the population and its decrease among the inferior part." To this the rejoinder is that many nations that have provided liberally for the education of leaders and neglected the masses have come to grief. The excellent high schools and universities of Russia did not save her in her critical hour. After deriving what comfort he can from the "experts" the man in the street, who pays the piper, will probably steer a middle course between these extreme positions.

THE PROBLEM OF NOISE

Mr. Henry J. Spooner is the protagonist of a growing need of modern life, namely, to make life more sound-proof, and thus to prolong it by rendering it freer from nerve racking diseases. He has written on the subject again and again, and his latest contribution is from a text in The London Times which reads: "Noise is wearing us out, and the march of mind must now be applied to a new armor-plating against a new projectile." Students of nervous diseases have been giving a good deal of attention to the problem of noise, more especially during the last decade when the growth of motor traffic has accentuated the problem; indeed created a problem of this character wholly new. The noise, shock and vibration of this traffic, increasing all the time, is wholly disorganizing. Mr. Spooner says that "if we are to protect the health and efficiency of the community, and not to live like a maggot in a bottle, we must greatly reduce traffic noise and revolutionize our building construction methods, particularly in the case of schools, colleges, hospitals, and the like, as to their location, lay-out and sound-proofness." Day after day, he says, evidence is coming to hand from all parts of the world "that there is a growing revolt against brain-wasting noise." In the realm of pure materialism the complaints are vulgarly brushed aside, but pathologically the fact remains that noise is wearing out the present generation out. A distinguishing author, temporarily residing in one of the large cities of Australia, has the following to say on the subject: "Noise absolutely vulgarizes life. No grace, nobility of thought, peace, or decency seems possible to me without quiet. Where to get it, unless one be rich? The preventible noises should certainly be summarily dealt with. It should be an ideal to build habitations where quiet is possible—not these awful kennels in which we suffer today."

Most of the noises to which humanity is subjected are avoidable. The worst noises come from motor traffic, and the inventiveness of man could easily produce more noiseless motor vehicles if such were insisted upon by the authorities. It is a matter in which departments of health should make themselves heard, for noise indubitably affects the health of a community and is accountable for the ragged nerves that affect so many in these latter days. Nervous worries are the precursors of many diseases, and yet the noise which so often occasions them is regarded as a hall mark of the march of civilization.

A HEART OF GOLD

A man whose heart, despite his eighty-four years, "was fresh and simple, who had faith in God and Nature," has gone to his rest in the death of Mr. W. T. Pye. His lot was cast in lowly circumstances. He never won the world's rewards; indeed he had no ambition in that direction. The duties that fell to his share were performed in an unaffected way. His metier in life he felt to be, in his humble sphere, to make the world a little better for his having lived in it by the promotion of friendliness and the diffusion of kind words. Mr. Pye was incapable of unkindliness in word, thought or deed. Sociability was his creed. He was the Christian who based his belief on the eternal verities; who thanked an all-wise Providence for even the smallest benefits and never repined because of the "slings and arrows of outrageous fortune." Were the world made up of his kind a League of Nations would be a work of supererogation, for there would be no war in men's hearts. His innocence was strong, and "his entire simplicity of mind, a thing most sacred in the eyes of Heaven."

Some of our correspondents who have been singing the praises of goats describe them as choice feeders. This may be true, but it seems that upon occasion they can be high power feeders as well, because a goat in Illinois has eaten two sticks of dynamite, and has thus, to quote The London Times, "moved at a few bites out of the class of cheap goats into the class of torpedoes and explosive armaments." The latest diet of the genus capra does not seem to have led to ill results, unless indeed the dynamite diet has accentuated the proclivity for butting.

The Good Old Days

The Scolding Woman Punished by Ducking

The day afore yesterday at two of ye clocke in ye afternoon I saw this punishment given to one Betsey, wife of John Tucker, who by ye violence of her tongue had made his house and ye neighbourhood uncomfortable. She was taken to ye pond where I am sojourning by ye officer who was joyned by ye Magistrate and ye Minister Mr. Cotton who had frequently admonished her, and a large number of People. They had a Machine for ye purpose, ye belongs to ye Parish. At ye end of ye longer arm is fixed a stool upon which said Betsey was fastened by cords, her gown tied fast around her feete.

The Machine was then moved to ye edge of ye pond, ye rope was slackened by ye Officer, and ye woman was allowed to go down under ye water for ye space of half a minute. Betsey had a stout stomach and would not yield until she had allowed herself to be ducked 5 severall times. At length she cried piteously, "Let me go, let me go, by God's help I'll sin no more." Then they drew back ye machine, untied ye Ropes and let her walk home in her wetted clothes a hopefully pertitent woman.

POPPIES AMONG RUINS

Tall grasses wave where once was close-sheared lawn,
And in the black of midnight, and white dawn,
Close-helmeted, they lift cold faces grey
And wait for the unleashing of the day.
But looking into morning gold, we see
Beyond the unkept hedge and lonely tree,
Brave companies that fire's cruel lips defy
Flaunting their fire in flaming ecstasy.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

A number of years ago the attention of Eastern Canadians was directed to the Prairies as a land of Great Expectations and there was a tremendous boom in Winnipeg, which at that time was "not much to look at." The boom waned and withered and people for a long time forgot all about the Prairies and their brilliant future. Today almost everybody is talking about the Prairies. Distinguished persons arrive in Victoria and the burden of their conversation is the condition of affairs on the Prairies. Correspondents of the newspapers find ready sale for articles describing the progress of sowing seed and the prospects for an abundant harvest on the Prairies. It would appear that all eyes are fixed and all interests centred on what is going on on the Prairies; that the whole future of Canada depends upon another bountiful harvest being reaped by the grain growers of the great plains. And all observers and commentators are agreed that never probably in the history of Canada were the prospects of the Prairies so bright as they are this year.

* * *

It is of course both interesting and important to read glowing accounts of the prospects of the Prairies; it is undeniable that an abundant harvest on the Prairies this year will have a tremendous effect upon the business situation in the whole of Canada during the coming Autumn and Winter; but there are other parts of Canada where men are busy sowing or studying the growth which is the result of sowing, and engaged in other occupations besides those of agriculture. The business future of Canada is not absolutely dependent upon the conditions in one section of the country, although that section happens to be of almost boundless proportions.

* * *

The people of the Eastern Maritime Provinces are noted for their energy and industry, and may be expected to contribute something to the prosperity of Canada. Quebec is a province of no mean proportions and has suddenly become famous as a producer of other things besides maple sugar and the products of the forests and the fields. The rapid development of water power has made Quebec one of the great manufacturing provinces of Canada and made small towns into large cities and large cities into larger cities. Ontario was at one time, if she is not yet, the chief agricultural province of the Dominion of Canada. Ontario was also at one time, if she is not yet, the principal manufacturing province of the Dominion of Canada. Ontario has lately become one of the principal mining provinces of the Dominion of Canada, and may soon become one of the chief gold-producing districts of the world. The one thing she lacks, and feels the lack of very keenly, is coal. The farmers of Ontario, furthermore, probably have been attending to their business in due season, and doubtless, like the farmers of the Prairies, are watching the progress of their crops and speculating about the results of the harvest and the abundance of their reward.

* * *

But while the prospects of the crops in the Eastern Provinces are important in their bearing upon the business conditions throughout Canada, we must not overlook the fact that the conditions in British Columbia may also have some effect upon the business situation in Canada. Our agriculturists and horticulturists were engaged in their annual task of sowing and planting long before the snow had melted and the frost had left the ground of the farmers in the other provinces. The crops thus sown and planted are well advanced. Some of them are approaching maturity and soon will be placed upon the market. The conditions in this part of British Columbia were never more favorable for an abundant harvest than they are this year.

Any one who has had the good fortune to enjoy a drive around the city of Victoria and its environs must have noticed how healthy and strong and beautiful every growing thing looked. But the most interesting feature of that drive was the thriving appearance of the city and the contiguous district. Victoria appears to have been stimulated by the example of Nature and to have gathered new strength from the vitality of her surroundings. And a new and potentially greater city is being constructed in the valleys and upon the hillsides of the surroundings districts. Houses are springing up like mushrooms in the night, although they are not in the least like mushrooms in construction. Let the Prairies flourish, but keep a business eye upon Victoria.

ANTIQUITY OF MAN

Sir,—The articles that Colonel Eardley-Wilmot has been writing for months appear to be caused by his having read a book written by Mr. McCreedy Price, calling himself a "professor of geology." The latter, I learn, is a teacher in a Seventh Day Adventist Seminary in Nebraska, who holds no university degree in science and is not a fellow of any geological body or society, but a fundamentalist. He confesses in the preface to his weird production, entitled "The Phantom of Organic Evolution," that when he sought a publisher he "found the regular channels of publication were denied him" and that "the editorial doors were banged in his face more than once," as not being "a reputable scientist." Anyone who knows anything about science and makes even a cursory examination of this book would recognize that no publishing house of scientific works could publish such nonsense without seriously compromising its reputation. He, in fact, had to go to a publisher of fundamentalist religious literature to get publication. In no sense can Price be described as a geologist or his work as scientific. The book lacks every scientific qualification—candor, avoidance of bias, intellectual honesty. He sets out to establish the absurd proposition that all the strata were laid down by the Flood, in forty days. What the earth's surface previously consisted of he does not explain. He adopts the trick of hunting through all biological and geological books he can get and picks out the concessions or doubts on details he can find, and by omitting all the main facts and arguments, makes it appear that scientists are throwing up their hands in despair. Further, it is impossible to acquit him of the charge of wilful misrepresentation. As educated people know, over large parts of the surface of the earth overturned folds and overthrusts caused by pressure have played a sort of game of football with the earth's crust and the strata of which it consists, and Price suggests that, in the Highlands of Scotland and the Alps, for instance, geologists cannot reconcile the position in which the strata are now found with the view that they were laid down in the orderly sequence predicted by Lyell. Where great chains of mountains like the above exist, long and patient research is required before the complicated mixup can be worked out and the conformability of the strata demonstrated.

But, in fact, in these instances and others cited by Price, the tangle had been straightened out before his book was published, thus confirming the "wicked evolutionists" and paleontologist's notion of successive strata.

For instance, as regards the Scotch Highlands, see Report of Smithsonian Institute, 1925, p. 594, where it is pointed out that in the case of Sutherland district that "Lapworth by exhaustive examination," solved the problem and "Geikie thereupon entrusted the survey to Peach and Horne, who produced what was probably the most detailed and masterly study of overthrusting on a large scale that has ever been made," and as regards Moffat and Girvan districts, "by detailed surveying and intensive study of the fossils, Lapworth unraveled the tangle and reduced the enigmatical group to an orderly sequence, each member of which was distinct in character and fossils, and established corelation with other parts of the kingdom."

Similarly in the United States, "the Taconic system formed the subject of controversy for upwards of sixty years until it was finally proved to consist of Cambrian and Silurian strata folded and faulted together."

As to the Alpine problem, it is worked out by Geikie in his "Mountains, Their Origin, Growth and Decay," Ch. v, p. 83, and as to the huge Himalayan push, it is dealt with in Wegener's "Origin of Continents and Oceans, p. 63. Our own Rockies have been dealt with by Coleman and others. All the above works are to be found, I believe, in the Victoria Public Library, so that your correspondent, if he had any desire to discover the truth, could have found that Price was fooling him, and would have been prevented from basing his case on falsehoods. As an honest man, he would then have had no alternative but to consign his letters to the flames, for Price is the basis of the whole eruption. Moreover, had he used his noble gift of reason, he would have realized that if Fundamentalist Geology was correct in its theory we should find dinosaurs and trilobites together with the mastadon and man in uncontorted and unfaulted pleistocene strata, whereas we never do.

And, further, that on this theory, it is impossible to account for the fact that over the greater portion of the globe we find all the strata lying in Lyell's sequence; for if they were all laid down together there would be no general sequence and, in fact, no distinct strata of any sort.

For further instances of unveracity I note that on p. 6, he says twice that "possibly" all the fossils and strata may be of the same age; he never even claims to have proved the time order of Lyell and geology wrong. Yet he writes all through the book as if he had done so. His mentality is so childish that everyone who is not a Fundamentalist is described as a "standpatter," "old guard," "hard baked," etc. (p. 15). On p. 45 he says "Lyell was obsessed with the dogmatic prejudice inherited from Cuvier that essentially all the plants and animals found in the rocks were extinct species." This is a barefaced untruth (see Lyell's "Antiquity of Man," Ch. 1). Price abuses Cuvier to pretend he is modern and advanced. But he himself holds even more antiquated views. On p. 58 he refers to the extinction of dinosaurs and other animals by the Flood, and it is therefore pertinent to ask what became of the pairs that Noah saved in the Ark, for Price believes in Noah's Ark.

Then, p. 114, he says "in tracing his descent backwards into the far distant past, Darwin had man passing through the bird stage." This again is untrue. (See "Descent of Man," Ch. vi, Sec. 278.)

On p. 115 he resorts to deliberate trickery in saying that "the wing of an insect, of a bird, of a bat and of a pterodactyl are not homologous." The three latter are homologous, but by inserting the "insect" among them he is able to suggest the contrary. It is like saying "yachting, cricket, golf and tennis are not games."

On p. 142 he instances "worker bees" to disprove evolutionary principles of heredity. The problem is correctly worked out by Darwin in Ch. vii, "Instinct" (Origin of Species).

In a chapter headed "The Bloody Ladder" (p. 179) he denounces the cruelty of evolution, and on p. 181 entirely misrepresents Darwin's remarks thereon. But the cruelty is exactly the same as what is going on today in the animal world.

On p. 197 his reference to Professors Chamberlin and Moulton is most misleading, for he is silent about their view of cosmic evolution, which is just as mechanistic as that of Laplasse. Such a book and such a writer discredit and degrade the cult that leans on such support.

DIABETES

Sir,—A report of a meeting of the Royal Society of Canada, at Winnipeg, on the twenty-second instant, quotes some remarks of Dr. J. R. MacLeod, of Toronto, relative to the use of insulin. The opening words of the dispatch read: "Insulin, the established cure for diabetes, is still a mystery to medical science."

I am under the strong impression that Dr. Banting never regarded insulin as a "cure," and said so. Diet is of more importance in controlling this disease than the palliative termed "insulin."

Dr. MacLeod is undoubtedly correct when he says "the discovery of insulin. . . . has not disclosed how insulin works on the human system." Equally true must it be that the use of insulin "has opened up a door of medical exploration which leads to many dark and yet unprobed passages . . . it has baffled us in many ways and has given us a thousand new problems to solve."

I submit one of the problems: In Toronto the death rate from diabetes for 1913-14-15-16 was 9.9 per 100,000, and in 1923-24-25 and ten months of 1926, it was 13.3 per 100,000. The death rate, therefore, shows in these later years an increase of thirty-four per cent. The figures were supplied by J. B. Fraser, M.D., of Toronto.

The Registrar-General of England, in his latest returns, shows an increase in the death rate, and the U.S. Public Health Department (Feb. 25, 1927) reports "Diabetes recorded the highest death rate since 1922." (This was the year in which insulin was introduced.)

The torture of animals in the production of insulin is probably sufficiently well known not to require repetition. Conclusions drawn from cruel experiments on animals are practically worthless.

Mr. W. E. Harper Tells of Study At Observatory

WINNIPEG, May 23.—Mr. W. E. Harper, assistant director of the Dominion Observatory at Victoria, told the members of the Royal Society of Canada today that at the Victoria Observatory a study was being made to determine how far away the stars were from the earth.

Mr. Harper stated that seven hundred of each type of star, technically known, had been photographed, and the velocity determined with a view to discovering the distance of the stars from the earth.

TO ARCACHON

We met beneath an old oak tree,
Beside the road to Arcachon;
And young and fair and sweet was she
I hoped to take to Arcachon.
Close by—a brilliant moonlit sea,
Whose waves chase wavelets merrily;
While both Georgette and I would be
Across the Bay of Arcachon.

From Ares, Andernos, the trains
Are lazy trains to Arcachon;
Audenge, Lanton, Taussat-les-Bains,
All on the way to Arcachon.
'Tis hard to walk in lover's chains,
Too far for maids and lovesick swains;
So we must sail, or take the trains—
The smoky trains—to Arcachon.

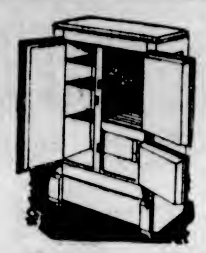

Down by the sea, wild berries grow
And vis a vis to Arcachon,
Georgette had promised me to go
Across the Bay—to Arcachon;
'Tis moonlight! but the tide is low,
With muddy sand—eight miles or so;
The train is all that's left, I trow!
No boat can sail for Arcachon.

What's this I hear an old man say?
"No boat tonight for Arcachon!
The train has gone—the last today;
You cannot go to Arcachon!"
Well, as we cannot cross the Bay,
At home, in Taussat, we must stay;
Alas, there is no other way
For us to get to Arcachon.

But at Audenge, there is, Bon Dieu!
A Cure comes from Arcachon!
Beyond a tree-decked avenue,
Bon chance! the same as Arcachon—
A pretty church, where, now, we two,
Georgette and I, make rendezvous.
Romantic oak! Taussat! adieu!
We need not go to Arcachon!

The Rhyming Optimist

UNREASON

There is a man whom I would trust
With utmost faith always,
I count his judgments wholly just,
His ways are upright ways.
The reason, dare I name it so,
For which I thus repose
My trust? In truth, I only know
How well he loves a rose!
This is unreason, some will say,
Who knows? They may be right,
Yet when I saw him pause today
To watch the swallows' flight,
I felt his being still must keep
God's spirit undefiled.
My loyalty to him is deep,
He loves bird, bloom and child!

DRUG CHARGES REDUCED, SAYS GEORGIE CHOW

Payments Made to Police and Law Not Enforced, Is Assertion—Some Officers Refuse Bribes

OTHER CHARGES CONCERN MAYOR

VANCOUVER, B.C., May 23.—Allegations of association between Mayor L. D. Taylor and Joe Celona, alleged operator of disorderly houses, were made at this afternoon's session of Commissioner R. S. Lennie's inquiry into Vancouver police force affairs, by Frank Caisa, who formerly owned such an establishment.

Caisa also testified that he had, from 1920 to August, 1927, made regular payments of protection money for the establishment to Detective-Sergeant George McLaughlin and Detective D. A. McGregor, of the morality squad.

Caisa told of seeing Mayor Taylor in the Shaughnessy Heights home of Joe Celona. On one occasion the party, he said, was attended by several women from Celona's establishments.

Caisa's allegations of payment of protection money to McLaughlin and McGregor were the subject of a police commission investigation some time ago. The evidence was heard in camera, as a result of which Caisa's counsel withdrew. The police board unanimously found that the charges were not supported by the evidence.

NARCOTIC TRAFFIC

Narcotic charges against Chinamen were reduced through efforts of interpreters, Georgie Chow, Chinese gambler, told the police inquiry this morning. He, himself, had "fixed" several cases, he declared, adding that on one occasion he paid former Police Sergeant John Roberston $50 to reduce a charge.

Witness, replying to questions by G. G. McGeer, counsel for Police Commisioner T. W. Fletcher, stated he had called on Sergeant J. W. Tuning and Constable A. M. Stewart, and had sought their assistance to have a narcotic charge against a cook employed in the witness' gambling house reduced, but these officers refused assistance. Inspector John Jackson, the witness declared, had promised to see "what he could do about it."

PAYMENTS TO POLICE

Cross-examined by Alex. Henderson, K.C., counsel for Mayor L. D. Taylor, and who was acting for Sergeant Robertson in the absence of J. W. deB. Farris, the sergeant's counsel, Chow said he had paid Sergeant Robertson $50 in 1924 or 1925 to reduce a charge against Nang You of possession of opium. The money had been paid to Robertson at his home.

Sergeant Tuning, recalled to the stand, repeated his former evidence given some days ago, that Georgie Chow had offered money to himself and Constable Stewart to reduce a narcotic charge against Ah Joe, and said that Chow's partner had also offered him money.

Chow had never offered either himself or Constable Stewart money when they were together, as far as he could recall.

In reply to questions by R. M. Maitland, Constable Stewart repeated his previous statement that Chow had offered him money in the Ah Joe case. The first offer was $100, then $250, and later suggested "more money."

Another Chinaman had also approached him, said the witness, but he told them all to keep away.

Rescues Wife Under Difficulties

MR. T. J. HANNIGAN

Of Guelph, Ont., secretary of the Ontario Hydra municipalities, fought a battle against suffocating smoke to rescue his wife, when his home caught fire shortly after three o'clock in the morning. Mrs. Hannigan was almost overcome by the smoke. Prevented by smoke from getting down the stairs, Mr. Hannigan climbed in night attire down a verandah post and, securing a ladder, assisted his wife from the second story.

Imitating Bird Costs Flyer His Life

THE dream of one of America's oldest active pilots, which was based on the belief that greater efficiency could be gained in aircraft by following "bird-in-flight" principles, ended in tragic death when Leonard W. Bonney, fifty-two-year-old millionaire and aviation enthusiast, was killed in the crash of his plane, known as the Bonney Gull, designed and built after the lines of a sea gull. The strange plane had taken off on its first test flight at Curtiss Field, N.Y., and after rising to a height of some fifty feet, started to flap its wings. A nose dive ensued, in which Bonney was thrown clear of the craft, which was smashed, breaking his neck. Bonney spent five years in building the craft, the take-off of which is shown in picture No. 1. No. 2 is Bonney, just before the hop, his last photograph. No. 3 is the wreckage.

PROHIBITION A DOUBTFUL ISSUE

Manchester Guardian Writer Can't Generalize After Survey in the United States

Eight years after the Prohibition Law came into effect the debate on the desirability of the experiment continues with hardly diminished vigor. Day after day the newspapers devote columns to reports of speeches, pamphlets and books on the subject. Each broadside from one camp is promptly followed by a reply from the other, in which statistical statements are attacked and generalizations are denied. No psychologist could ask a better example of "wishful thinking" than is to be found in ninety-five per cent of this material, which seemingly never persuades anyone not already persuaded.

I have just returned from a 7,000-mile journey through the South and Middle West, in the course of which I made a careful attempt to find out what is happening under Prohibition; and as a result I am strongly impressed by the fact that no single generalization can possibly cover "the truth" about Prohibition, writes a special correspondent of The Manchester Guardian. There is not one truth, but a score of them. Conditions along any of the four borders of the United States differ from those in the interior. The large cities have one attitude and the small towns another. There are notable variations as between the classes in the same community.

WORKER GETS LESS

It seems clear that the average working man is drinking much less than formerly. The great improvement in his material prosperity (real wages have increased about thirty per cent since 1914) is due to several factors, among which Prohibition is perhaps third or fourth in importance. It must be remembered that beer and wine are practically non-existent in the United States today.

The staple commodities of the bootlegger are gin and whisky, and these are so expensive that the working man, even with extra money in his pocket, simply cannot afford them in large quantities. While there are numbers of "speakeasies" (illicit saloons) most of these do not encourage the working man's trade, since he has not enough money to interest their proprietors.

Boisterous conduct, of the kind once habitual in low-grade saloons, is instantly halted in the "speakeasy" because it is likely to bring the unwelcome attentions of the police, or in cases where the police have been bribed, those of indignant citizens making public complaints of an awkward character. The vicious system of treating, requiring each man in a group to buy in his turn a round of drinks, has also been discouraged; the average drinking place does not welcome the entrance of more than two or three persons at a time.

In consequence, fewer men go on a Saturday night debauch and spend all their week's earnings. The percentage of factory employees who miss work on Monday morning of drunkenness is enormously decreased.

MORE DRINKING

Members of the middle class in large cities are probably drinking more than before Prohibition came into effect. This is the result of a social change which can only partially be laid at the door of the Eighteenth Amendment, since it is seen also in other countries where the sale of liquor is openly permitted. The emancipation of women, which has made such rapid strides in America in recent years, has resulted in their demanding the right to share in the recreations of the male, including the consumption of alcoholic beverages. In innumerable homes cocktails before dinner are now a matter of daily routine, though they were hardly ever served in the old days.

As to whether the men in this class drink more or less than before it is almost impossible to obtain reliable data. My own surmise would be that they are more temperate than formerly. One reason for this, almost never referred to, is the universal use of the automobile. Only an exceptionally foolish individual will risk his life by driving in congested traffic when he is befuddled. For many years, however, the typical American has been moving away from the habit of indulging to excess either in food or drink. The daily consumption of brandy or rum habitual to our great grandfathers is hardly known at present, just as no American gorges himself with the vast quantities of food which were once consumed.

PLENTY AVAILABLE

As for persons of wealth, the evidence seems to indicate that they drink about as much as they ever did. These are the homes in which visiting British novelists are entertained, and it is on the basis of such visits that they send back their wholly unreliable reports on the Prohibition question. The man of wealth is still able to serve wine either from his pre-Prohibition cellar or purchased at high prices.

The much-discussed drinking on the part of young people seems to be an over-advertised phenomenon. It is true that young women now claim their brothers' privilege of occasionally drinking too much and making an unpleasant public exhibition of themselves; but those who behave in this way are a small minority, probably not more than five per cent, and are the modern equivalent for the similar proportion of every generation which misbehaves. For a few years after the war there was a recklessness in the air which affected young people as well as their elders; and the situation was complicated by the fact that American youth is definitely entering upon an era of altered sexual standards. But hard drinking was never so important as we were led to believe; and it passed its peak not later than the year 1925.

Returning to the geographical distribution of varying degrees of "wetness," we may note that the small towns of the Middle West, where the movement for prohibitory legislation had its beginning, have been comparatively successful in fighting the illegal traffic. The church-going Protestants, who constitute eighty per cent of the population in these communities, are largely total abstainers, and even when they are not, they support a vigorous enforcement of the law on the ground that they can still get all they want, and that abolition of the open saloon is good for young people and for the working class. What I have said above about the situation of young people in the middle classes in the great cities applies as well to those in these smaller towns. There is some drinking, certainly; it is shared by the young women; there is less than there was three or four years ago; drunkenness is a serious problem only with a small percentage.

POISON LIQUOR

The quality of the liquor which is being consumed in America today varies inversely with the degree of enforcement of the Prohibition law. The harder it is to obtain, the worse is its character. There is much talk in the newspapers about poison liquor," and occasional deaths due to this are recorded; but most of these occur among people so ignorant and incompetent that persons of their sort could—and did—poison themselves similarly with furniture polish or rubbing alcohol long before prohibition had ever been heard of. In such a city as New York, where there is little real attempt at enforcement, whisky and gin of fair quality can be purchased at prices about twice as high as those which prevailed before 1920. Solicitation by bootleggers is as frequent, and almost as open, as that by life insurance agents. "Speakeasies" abound in certain districts of the city, and only the flimsiest identification is necessary to establish one's self as a customer. If one does not care for their rather depressing atmosphere, and has mislaid the telephone number of one's bootlegger, innumerable grocery stores and drug stores are to be found which are willing to come to one's rescue. Much of the liquor they offer is "cut" with water; more of it is not smuggled across the border but is industrial alcohol which has been redistilled to make it potable, and some of it is crude synthetic compounds; but on the whole it seems fairly satisfactory to those who buy it. After years of prohibition the American death rate is still about eight per cent below the British, and does not increase.

LAW ABANDONED

New York and several other commonwealths have abandoned their State prohibition laws, so that the only restriction on alcoholic activities comes from agents of the Federal Government. Though vast sums are appropriated every year for prohibition enforcement, everyone knows that many millions of additional dollars would be necessary to make any real impression on the "wet" districts along the borders, and particularly the Atlantic Coast. The authorities are unwilling to ask Congress for any such sums, and for political reasons do not dare attempt rigid enforcement in the districts where it would be unpopular. They, therefore, wink at virtual nullification in these sections of the country, though they would deny this with the utmost indignation if they were asked to comment on the statement in public. For a time, under a vigorous Federal District Attorney, efforts were made in New York to reach and punish the big men at the top of the bootlegging organization (which is now a vast, well-organized business with investments of millions). These efforts seem to have withered away since the retirement of this gentleman, Mr. Emory R. Buckner, into private life. Today there is an occasional raid on a night club, which does spectacular damage to the club and no harm at all to the bootleggers, and once in a while a shipment of liquor is seized in transit and publicly destroyed, while the motion-picture cameras click out the sorrowful story. Such efforts, and indeed, all others, have no appreciable effect on the industry, which charges them into its normal overhead expense account and shows a handsome profit at the end of the year in any case.

Since the Federal amendment cannot be repealed, the future is likely to see one of two courses. Either the States will redefine the word "intoxicating" in a hypocritical way so as to permit the manufacture of wine and beer on the pretext that they do not produce drunkenness, or the present situation will continue, with nullification in those districts where the majority sentiment is "wet" and fairly successful enforcement in those which were "dry" before the national law came into effect.

World-Famous Stories

THE BEGGAR WHO WASN'T

By BOCCACCIO

(Giovanni Boccaccio, 1313-1375, was an Italian story-writer. His best known tales are from the collection known as "The Decameron.")

There was once upon a time in old Italy a certain man named Primasso. He was skilfully learned in all the tricks of rhetoric and repartee, besides being very naturally witty and a ready versifier. For these accomplishments Primasso was much admired and his fame spread far over the country. So well known was he, indeed, that if a person merely heard something Primasso had said, the saying could be indentified at once as coming from the lips of the famous wit.

Primasso once was in Paris without a penny to his name. In fact, it was a common thing with him to be in such a poor condition, for merit is but little rewarded among those who have all the wealth.

Hearing, however, of the Abbot of Clugny, Primasso decided to pay that worthy gentleman a visit. For it seems that the Abbot of Clugny was known far and wide for his great wealth, and he was also famous for his eccentric generosity. Among the amazing tales told about this Abbot was the story that he never refused anyone, no matter whence he came or where he went. Anyone, no matter what his past or present, could eat and drink freely there, providing only that he came while the Abbot himself was at table, or at mealtime when the Abbot was at home.

Being naturally desirous of seeing such a famous Abbot, and at the same time remembering the stories of this hospitable generosity, Primasso decided to go to see the man. Besides, he lived not so very far from Paris.

Primasso thought, nevertheless, that he might become hungry on his journey. He therefore took along some refreshment in the form of three loaves of bread which he concealed satisfactorily about his person, they being long and narrow and readily fitting into the folds of his ragged cloak. He knew that he could find water to drink almost anywhere, even though he had been used to drinking water but little!

He arrived at the estate of the Abbot of Clugny some while before dinner. So he entered the great hall and passed from room to room, noticing the great number of tables and the bountiful preparation of all kinds of good that was going on in the huge kitchen.

"What admirable provision for dinner!" he told himself. "Truly this man is more magnificent than Fame hath made him, for she speaks far too modestly of him."

While thus wandering about over all these things, he saw the head of the Abbot's household. It was then the hour of dinner, and the head of the household was commanding water to be brought so everyone could wash his hands.

As they sat down at table it fell to the lot of Primasso to sit directly against the door through which the Abbot must enter the hall. The custom was that no food could be served until the Abbot himself appeared and was seated. So as soon as everyone was in place and all was ready, the head of the household went to tell the Abbot that only his presence was now required to start the meal.

As the Abbot entered the hall he chanced to look down and saw Primasso in his beggar's rags. He could not remember ever seeing this man before, so poor was his clothing and all. So, for no apparent reason, the Abbot conceived a dislike for this strange guest and was convinced that he never laid eyes on a more unworthy person.

"So this is how I give my fortune away to be devoured," he said to himself, returning to his chamber.

The Abbot asked each of his servants in turn if they knew anything of the beggar who sat before the entrance into the hall. They all answered that they did not.

Primasso meanwhile, being extremely hungry after his long journey afoot, and not used to going without food so long, took out one of his loaves of bread and heartily fell to eating it. He could not understand why the Abbot did not appear so that meal could be served, but he decided not to go hungry any longer.

After a time the Abbot, becoming impatient, sent one of his men to see if the beggar had gone. The servant reported that the beggar not only stayed, but he seemed to have brought food with him, for he was eating dry bread.

"Let him feed on his own provender," said the Abbot, "for he shall taste none of mine this day."

The Abbot wished Primasso would leave of his own accord, for it was scarcely seemly that he should request his departure. And Primasso, all this time, having eaten one of his loaves and still seeing nothing of the Abbot and his food, took out a second loaf and fell to eating that also. A servant reported this to the Abbot—and Primasso, having finished the second, went on with the third.

When the news of Primasso's eating his third loaf came to the ears of the Abbot the good man burst out in surprise at his own selfishness:

"What new kind of trick has my brain been playing on me this day? Why do I become contemptuous of any man whatever? For a long time now I have given meat to anyone who came, without exception. Gentlemen or yeoman, poor or rich, merchant or minstrel, honest man or knave—all have been fed at my table ere this. Begrudging any man food doth ill become me and my estate. What if he does look specially wretched to me? He may deserve more than I have and be worthy of more honor than I am able to bestow upon him."

After this lecture to himself, the Abbot sent to find out the stranger's name and when he came. Learning that this was none other than the renowned wit, Primasso, and that he had come, though penniless, to witness the magnificence of the Abbot of Clugny, the Abbot hastened into the hall to give him welcome.

The Abbot was now greatly ashamed of his first hasty action, and he did everything he could to make amends in his own mind. He now knew that Primasso was reputed everywhere to be learned, honest and clever. So when the dinner was over the Abbot presented Primasso with some honorable garments, more becoming to his rank and merit, and put a good store of money in his purse and also gave him a good horse to ride.

The Abbot then left it to Primasso's own free will whether he should go or stay. Whereupon Primasso, being well content, gave the Abbot his heartiest thanks and returned to Paris on horseback—where he had set out not many hours before poorly afoot.

SCHOOL SPORTS ATTRACT 2,000

Fifth Annual Meet of Saanich Public Schools Athletic Association Held at Beaver Lake

IDEAL WEATHER FOR POPULAR FUNCTION

Held under ideal weather conditions yesterday, at Beaver Lake, the fifth annual sports meet of the Saanich Public Schools Athletic Association attracted 2,000 pupils, parents and friends.

A warm sun, tempered by a gentle breeze, bathed the shores of the lake as the smaller children paddled in the cool water, lazily watching their bigger brothers and sisters compete in the many events, ranging from foot racing to high diving.

The seventy-five-yard race course was in splendid condition and had been oiled to keep down the dust. Many of the contestants appeared in bathing costumes and running togs. There was plenty of loud cheering and encouragement given the girls and boys, particularly in the relay races, tug of war and swimming events. All the foot races were marked by close finishes.

Pop and candy was furnished the children by the athletic association, while the Women's Institute of Strawberry Vale served refreshments under the shade of the trees. Firms contributing to the prize list were Victoria Book & Stationery Company, Limited, Peden Bros., Little & Taylor, David Spencer, Limited, Columbia Mills, Hudson's Bay Company, Moore & Whittington, Mitchell & Duncan and Diggon Printing Company.

Cast Up on the Beach

JACK Miner, the Canadian naturalist, walking along the shore of Lake Erie recently, came across a sturgeon which had been washed up on the beach. It turned out to be the largest fresh-water fish ever taken from Lake Erie. He presented it to the Royal Ontario Museum. Mr. Miner advocates the breeding of sturgeon in captivity, as they are rapidly being exterminated.

MEMBERS OF 88TH ATTEND REUNION

One Hundred Members Gather at Chamber of Commerce for Annual Function

Twelve years ago on May 23 the 88th Battalion, Victoria Fusiliers, sailed from Victoria bound for duty on Flanders Fields. Those who were fortunate enough to emerge from the fray gathered at the Chamber of Commerce last night at the second annual reunion dinner.

From Vancouver, The Interior, up-Island and American points members of the unit were present last night, and many telegrams were received from others unable to attend.

Sergeant-Major E. W. Maynard, who officiated as chairman, asked the gathering to stand and observe two minutes of silence as a tribute to departed comrades. The hall was in darkness during the interval, while the rays from a spotlight played on a wreath resembling the hat badge of the battalion, which later was placed on the cenotaph at the Parliament Building grounds.

This was followed by the singing of "O Canada" and the toast, "The King."

During the evening toasts were sponsored to the City of Victoria, The Empire, Our Honored Guest, Our Visitors, and the 88th Battalion, C.E.F. Among the speakers were H. Despard Twigg, M.P.P.; Comrades W. G. Stone, T. Jones, G. Turner, Carew Martin, H. B. Andrews, W. Lorimer and B. H. Harrison.

Artists contributing to the programme were W. Gaskill, A. Weatherhill, A. Hunt, J. Waterson, W. J. Laird, A. Crease, J. Clear, G. Edwards, J. Lang, P. S. Langton, J. Kerr and G. Day.

MEMBER SAYS HIS REMARKS CORRECT

Mr. Pooley Explains Comment on His Metchosin Speech With Regard to Laborers' Wages

Mr. R. H. Pooley, M.P.P. for Esquimalt, meets the alleged denial by Premier MacLean that any political considerations had entered into the awarding of the wage rates on the roads in the province, and that the wages were raised generally throughout the province on this line of work, with the statement that this is but another attempt on the part of the Premier to "draw a herring across the political trail."

The member for Esquimalt points out that in his speech at Metchosin he did not state that there had not been general increases made, and he was not reported as saying that there were not. He says he stated that there was a discrimination shown under the wages paid against the residents of his constituency of Esquimalt and other Conservative ridings, as compared with the wages paid in ridings that were represented by Liberals. There had been a general increase recently, but under the former rates paid Esquimalt and other Conservative ridings had not received the same treatment in point of pay as had some of the districts represented by Liberals.

"Why should the workers on the roads in Revelstoke, in Columbia, Fort George and other ridings that returned Liberals be paid higher wages for the same work as that done in Esquimalt at a lower rate?" asks Mr. Pooley.

"There is no use of Premier MacLean trying to explain away the matter in the way he attempts," said the member for Esquimalt. "I have the figures, and they cannot be denied. A rank injustice has been done the workers on the roads in Esquimalt and some of the other Conservative ridings by the Government in the manner of fixing the wage scales in the province."

Saanich Schools—Trustee H. P. Thorpe, chairman of the Saanich School Board, announced yesterday that all public schools in Saanich would be closed on Friday.

Building Permits—A permit for a $12,500 home for Mr. A. B. Cotton, of Terrace Avenue, was taken out at the City Hall yesterday. Mr. E. T. Day is the contractor and Mr. P. L. James the architect. This brings the value of home construction undertaken this month to $32,000.

Deer Season—The deer season in North and South Saanich and the Highland district will be from September 15 to October 31. On the rest of the Island the season will be from September 15 to November 30, officials of the Victoria and District Fish and Game Association announced yesterday.

Will Go North—Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, will leave for Prince Rupert shortly for the purpose of being present in that city at the nominating convention of the Liberals for the riding which Mr. Pattullo now represents. It is taken for granted that the Minister of Lands will again be the nominee for the northern district. The convention will be held in Prince Rupert on June 6.

Milk Investigation—The committee which will investigate the milk supply of the Lower Mainland of the province has now been named. It consists of Dean F. M. Clement, of the University of British Columbia, as chairman; Dr. H. W. Hill, of the same institution, and Mr. G. E. Hancox, Vancouver barrister nominated by the Vancouver City Council. The committee will act under the legislation passed at the last session of the Legislature.

No Parking—No parking along the route of today's parade will be allowed, Chief of Police John Fry announced last night. The streets affected are as follows: Yates Street from School Street to Government, along Government Street to Superior, along Superior to Douglas and along Douglas Street to Beacon Hill Park.

Paving Work—Friday morning will see the paving of Douglas Street between Fort and View Street, and between Johnson Street and Pandora Avenue, including the intersections, started by the city engineer's department. The space between the car tracks will be done first. After this one side of the street will be paved, and after it is opened to traffic the other side of the street will be paved, thus permitting traffic to go through on Douglas Street continuously.

Berry Control Board—The Marketing of berries in the Fraser Valley, Salmon Arm district and the Okanagan will be under the control of a committee of direction, which is fashioned on the lines laid down by statute affecting the marketing of farm produce, and will be similar to the committee that handles the fruit and vegetables in the Okanagan. The berry committee will be composed as follows: Mr. W. J. Manson, of Hatzic; Mr. A. S. Rankin, of Dewdney, and Mr. Frederick Cox, of Salmon Arm.

Original Authorized Version to Be Used—Of wide general interest is the announcement that a copy of the original 1611 edition of the Bible, "imprinted at London by Robert Barker," will be used at the Children's Festival in the new Christ Church Cathedral on Saturday afternoon. After the service, the book, which has been lent for the occasion by a local resident, will be exhibited in the baptistery. This copy of "The Holy Bible, containing the Old Testament and the New," includes also the books of the Apocrypha.

Premier to Attend Nominations—Premier MacLean will leave the city in time to attend the nomination convention of the Liberal party in New Westminster on Friday. He will then attend the nomination convention of his party in Dewdney on the following day, and be in Prince George for Monday when the nomination takes place there. The Wednesday following he plans to attend the Liberal nomination in Kamloops. With the exception of Dewdney the other three seats referred to are represented by Liberals in the present House, Messrs. Wells Gray, Harry Perry and J. R. Colley. It is anticipated that all will again be candidates.

BARNACLES ON SHIPS COSTLY

PEST COSTS AMERICAN SHIPPING INTERESTS BIG SUM YEARLY

Total of $100,000,000 Annually Spent in War on Ubiquitous Marine Growth

SEATTLE, May 23.—Barnacled ship bottoms cost American shipping interests more than $100,000,000 a year, the Seattle district office of the department of commerce announces.

For centuries barnacling of ships' bottoms has been combatted by every means known to man. Weird coatings have been applied to ships' hulls; everything from loose animal hair attached with pitch to butter mixed with poisonous materials has been tried by experimenters in the past.

Modern methods to prevent fouling of ship bottoms are simple—poison paints being relied on, and scientists of the Bureau of Fisheries, which has directed the experimentation, have become expert in mixing colors and pigments which might repel the "stowaways" which cling to the hulls of vessels and cause the loss of millions each year.

It has been estimated that the speed of ships is diminished up to fifty per cent when their bottoms become covered with the shells and slime of barnacles, hydroids, algae, tunicates, mollusks and other sea plants and animals. Voyages are delayed, fuel consumption is increased sometimes as much as forty per cent, the wear on machinery is much greater, and a month or more a year is lost in dry-docking for cleaning and painting of barnacled hulls. A vessel at sea for six or eight months frequently accumulates a growth of two or three inches, weighing from fifty to 100 tons, on its bottom, it is stated.

The Bureau of Fisheries investigators have been studying the nature and habits of fouling organism for a long time, under great difficulty, because it has been impossible to bring them to the surface in large numbers and study them under the microscope in the laboratory. They have had to be studied in colonies on the bottoms of the ships raised from the water and put in drydock for scraping and painting. Careful records have been kept of the kinds of animals and plants found on vessels; every sort of conditions has been recorded and analyzed. Results of these experimentations and investigations have been condensed in the publication which is entitled, "Nature and Extent of Fouling of Ships' Bottoms."

Airplane Views Show Esquimalt Development

THE two photographs above, taken from one of the B.C. Airways airplanes, give an excellent impression of the shipping facilities at Esquimault Harbor. On the left is the new Esquimalt drydock, with the Princess Marguerite and a small freighter docked in the inner section of the graving basin. On the right is a picture of the shipbuilding and repair plant of Yarrows, Limited. The photographs are two of a series of views of the city taken by the B.C. Airways for reproduction in postcard form. The local aerial firm is now developing aerial photography as one of its activities, with notable success. Airplane photographs, of course, give the most comprehensive view possible of any land scene, and it is expected that this phase of the company's work will grow rapidly.

The Bridal Shower

Brides-to-Be Should Be Consulted When Friends Give Showers in Their Honor

There's many a slip twixt the engagement ring and the wedding ring and possible slips are especially embarrassing to the girl who has had numerous showers. So although bridal showers have come to be accepted as quite permissible, it is rather foolish to start in with a series of showers before definite plans have been made for the wedding.

A reader wrote the other day to know what to do with things she had obtained at showers, now that her engagement had been definitely broken. She had had no less than three showers given for her—a kitchen shower, a lingerie shower and a linen shower—with an admirable amount of loot after each. She didn't even know from whom all the various things had come.

WHAT SHOULD SHE DO?

At the kitchen shower—to which all her girl friends had been asked—everyone just placed their contributions, dishpans, graters, vegetable-ricers, double boilers, etc., in a heap on a table. There were no cards for identification. She had destroyed the cards from the contributions of lingerie, so she could not remember from whence all of them had come; and she had very foolishly worn some of the things.

Is it usual to return gifts—or should I save them for a possible second engagement?" she asked rather naively. "Perhaps I ought to ask all the girls who were present at the showers to come and look over the things and take what they gave. I thought of doing that but it seemed a trifle cold blooded."

I am sorry to say that I don't know what ought to be done under the circumstances. Perhaps the easiest way out of it would be to try to see all the contributors within the next few weeks and suggest to each that you would like to return the gifts—explaining to the ones who gave the things that had been worn just what you had done.

ONE EASY WAY OUT

A very convenient way out of the difficulty, of course, would be to patch up the difficulty with the exfiance or to become engaged again—still one would hardly want to do that just to solve this immediate problem.

The letter impressed me with the importance of not having showers too early in the game—not perhaps until the wedding date had been set and arrangements made. Some girls would really rather not have any showers—so I think the friend who is planning to give a shower ought always to ask the bride's permission first.

Only really intimate friends should be asked to a shower, and then, I think, specification should be made on the part of the one who gives it that the gifts should not be very expensive. It does seem a little presumptuous for the sister or other relative of the engaged girl ever to get up any sort of shower party, save possibly a partly amusing one where guests are required to bring nothing costing more than ten cents.

By the time a girl's friends have contributed to two or three different sorts of showers it requires some courage to ask them to a wedding when another present is in order.

The luncheon or tea given by the bride's mother or sister to announce her engagement ought not to be taken as occasion for a shower. If close friends choose to give engagement presents at this time they really ought not to be displayed, lest others will feel that presents are in order. The giving of engagement presents is getting to be quite usual nowadays, but there is something to be said against the custom. After all, it is the wedding present that a bride treasures most highly.—Betsy Callister, care of McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

To Install Span Of Bridge Across Qualicum River

Installation of the steel span of the Big Qualicum River bridge on the Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway will be proceeded with, now that the Trent River bridge has been finished by the Canadian Bridge Company, Mr. H. E. Beasley, general superintendent of the railway, said yesterday.

The approaches to the Trent River bridge entailed a large fill, representing some 140,000 cubic yards. The two steel spans have been installed at successive weekends, when traffic was light.

Luney Brothers began yesterday tearing out the southern part of the Store Street depot, preparatory to the reconstruction of the building. When accommodation has been provided for the baggage-room, the old freight shed will be removed.

NEW FISH RULES EXPECTED SOON

OTTAWA, May 23.—Some of the recommendations contained in the report of the Commission on Fisheries can be put into force by departmental regulations, but those requiring legislation must stand over until next session, said Premier King in the Commons today, in answer to a question by Hon. W. A. Black, Conservative, Halifax.

HEAVY TRAVEL TO EAST IS FORECAST

Round-Trip Excursion Fares Now Effective on Railroads—Steady Flow of Traffic

Heavy travel to the East for the Summer season was forecast Tuesday, when the round-trip excursion fares became effective, by the capacity passenger lists of the various transcontinental trains leaving the Northwest.

Although the Summer of 1927 recorded an unusual volume of Eastern travel, all information is that 1928 will equal it, according to Mr. C. W. Meldum, assistant general passenger agent of the Great Northern.

"Travel is one of the barometers of our prosperity," said Mr. Meldrum, "and the now-indicated eastward movement of Northwest residents who plan a visit "back home" proves that this section of the country has prospered in no small degree.

"While the first trains out on the opening day of the Summer are always heavy, caring to a large extent for travelers who have deferred their trips to take advantage of the lower cost, Great Northern representatives report that reservations for passengers on the Oriental Limited assure a large and steady traffic for the entire Summer season."

The Great Northern has made special preparations to take care of this travel, and, with its fleet of ten complete Oriental Limited trains, has ample equipment to meet all demands. The round trip fares East are to be in effect daily until September 30, and final return limit is October 31. The fares apply to practically every Eastern city, with generous stopover privileges, and effect a saving of $40 to $50 per ticket, according to destination.

Similar fares are operative westbound and advance reservations on the Great Northern are about forty per cent heavier than last year.

WOMEN JURORS OBJECT TO SERVE

LONDON, May 23.—Three women jurors at the Old Bailey objected to serving at a trial of a scoutmaster who was charged with a serious offence and were excused from jury duty. The judge, however, remarked: "I do not see why women should be relieved in such cases. This is a case affecting the honor of young children, and I would have thought women were the proper persons to serve on the jury." Two other women and a man were substituted. One of the substitute jurors remarked that she had no objection to doing here duty as a citizen, unless those on the jury thought her presence would prevent frank discussion of the case. She was acceptable, the men jurors said. Heretofore at the Old Bailey women have been told to leave when a case to be tried was of an unpleasant nature, and have been given the option of serving or not serving on the jury. In the majority of such cases the women have preferred not to serve.

Impaled on Bow, Shark Voyages North on Ship

PRINCE RUPERT, May 23.—The steamer Prince George yesterday morning ran down a shark in Seymour Narrows, on her voyage up the British Columbia coast, and in some unexplainable manner the monster was impaled on the ship's prow. The fish remained attached to the vessel for some time, its body in a semi-perpendicular position with tail and a considerable length of the body visible.

It was not until the steamer was well out in Queen Charlotte Sound that the roll of the seas knocked the shark off.

Here's One Mr. Service Hasn't Heard, Probably

SEATTLE, May 23.—The story of a steamboat captain who remembered his school book physics and painted a lake black in order to make an early voyage into the interior of the ice-locked North was disclosed here yesterday. H. Wheeler, owner of the steamer Casca, which sailed Tuesday from White Horse, Y.T., for Dawson, remembered several weeks ago that black absorbs the sun's rays and holds the heat. So he ordered a mighty strip of lampblack and refuse oil forty feet wide to be swabbed across the glittering ice of Lake Labarge.

The lampblack melted the ice. Today the Casca sailed through a canal twenty-mile long and forty feet wide, etched across the ice by lampblack.

FILM INDUSTRY PLANS PROCEED

CONFERENCE BETWEEN MR. A. HUSTWICK AND CITY OFFICIALS IS HELD

Plan Evolved Will Be Presented to Industrial Committee Friday for Approval

A conference between Mr. Alfred Hustwick and Mr. Moresby White, his legal adviser, and Mayor J. Carl Pendray and Alderman H. O. Litchfield, chairman of the industrial committee of the City Council, was held yesterday in connection with the establishment of a motion picture studio here.

A plan was formulated at this conference which will be submitted to the industrial committee at a special meeting to be held on Friday. If approved by this committee the plan will be forwarded to the City Council for endorsement.

Mr. Hustwick has been associated with the famous Lasky Corporation at Hollywood. He is here to carry through the incorporation of the "Pacific Pictures, Limited," which will operate under the British quota law. Mr. Hustwick's plans involve the formation of the Canadian Cinema Finance, Limited, which company will finance part of the operations consisting of feature pictures made under the quota law.

The city will give any reasonable amount of assistance. One plan considered is the use of the Willows ground with the existing buildings for indoor sets, projection rooms, developing rooms and other necessary equipment in connection with the production of motion pictures.

Skinny, "Lifeless" Women Gain Weight

Nobody Looks at a Skinny Woman

Gain pounds of weight with new YEAST and IRON in few weeks—or pay nothing

"Gained 10 Pounds and Beautiful Skin"

"I found Ironized Yeast the most beneficial tonic I have ever taken. I gained 10 pounds and have been gaining steadily ever since. The pimples and other skin diseases have also left me." —Miss G. J. W., Spencerville, Ont.

If we could only show you the wonders Ironized Yeast has done for thousands of men and women. The bony hollows that have filled up with firm flesh; stringy necks and bony limbs given rounded beauty! Pimples, boils and blotches have disappeared for good.

How Yeast and Iron Builds Quick Flesh and Health

Ironized Yeast is two tonics in one—weight-building Yeast and strengthening Iron. The yeast is the same used in making malt, and which makes malt so beneficial. It is specially-cultured yeast, concentrated to give the utmost in flesh-producing value.

This Yeast is treated with pure, vegetable iron, the same as in spinach, lettuce and celery. In this form iron is easily assimilated by the body, making rich, red blood and toning up nerves and muscles.

Only when Yeast is Ironized in this way is it more effective—for iron is needed to bring out the weight-building, strengthening values of Yeast. By this special formula Ironized Yeast gives you results in half the time required by yeast or iron taken separately.

Your Home and You

By BETSY CALLISTER

HERE is a game that children always enjoy, and the equipment needed is a sheet and a feather. You will need four children at least and there should be an even number of players. Divide them into two teams. Have them sit on the floor, teams facing, the distance of the sheet apart. Each child should hold the sheet with two hands, keeping it up from the floor. The feather is started on its career midway between the two teams and then the children are told to blow. The object is to keep the feather from settling in the ranks of the home team. So long as it lights on the sheet the game continues.

At a high school dance recently, the committee scored a hit by securing a theatrical spotlight and then throwing different colored lights on the dancers from time to time. This trick had been kept a secret by the members of the committee and great were the surprise and pleasure of the young dancers when the colored light was first thrown on and they saw their associates dancing in an enchanting rose-colored light, soon to be changed to a soft violet.

At another dance recently, each of the men received a small electric torch as a favor and at a given signal in one of the dances the lights were turned out and the men lighted their torches.

If you have never given a white elephant party, and no one has given one recently in your circle of acquaintances, by all means have one. They are immensely amusing and the idea can be worked in at a card party or dance. Each guest, you know, is requested to bring something that he or she doesn't want and the more absurd and useless it is, the better. Guests are requested not to tell each other what they are bringing.

The hostess collects the contributions, wraps them up again and gives them as favors. A bachelor who is growing bald may receive a beribboned boudoir cap that one of the girls has brought. An old-fashioned mustache cup, dug out of an attic, may be given to one of the young ladies. It is surprising to see what a collection of out-of-date atrocities come to light on such an occasion.

This week's household help consists of formula and directions for making soap at home. It is given by request and for the benefit of readers who are obliged to do everything possible to cut down household expenses. This home-made soap costs almost nothing and is useful in cleaning and for the coarser sort of laundry work. Just send a stamped, self-addressed envelope and I will send it to you. Address, care of McClure Newspaper Syndicate, 373 Fourth Avenue, New York.

Some Innovations at Smart Weddings

Grass green lace was chosen by the bride's mother, Mrs. William Whitman, at the fashionable Whitman-Pennypacker wedding in New York this Spring. The rather scant skirt was made with an uneven hemline showing the scallops at the edge of the deep lace. With it she wore a little hat of matching tulle with a veil that just shaded the eyes.

Long-stemmed calla lilies—usually of the yellow sort—have been carried by the bridesmaids at a number of recent weddings. At a recent smart wedding in Washington, D.C., the bridesmaids carried parasols which were covered with small artificial flowers in dainty colorings.

At at least two of the important weddings of the Spring the bridegrooms have chosen their own still young fathers for their best men, but I have not yet heard of a bride choosing her mother for matron of honor, though I have heard of a young step-mother filling that important position.

At another notable wedding recently the bride's mother wore a frock of beige lace and chiffon, with a picture hat of brown.

Many Spring brides have worn tulle veils. One bride wore the tulle in soft folds pulled across her brow, held snugly over each ear with a little bunch of orange blossoms. Another wore a wreath of white flowers across the brow and around the head to hold the tulle veil in place.

Another smart bride recently wore a tulle veil which did not cover the top of the head, but was held on by a pearl chaplet that went across the forehead.

Moire bridal gowns have dignity and smartness and are at the same time becoming to the young bride.

A bride with two sisters just younger than herself had them as her only attendants, one in pink and one in blue.

The bridal attendants at another wedding were dressed in full, bouffant frocks of point d'esprit in white, with sashes of rainbow-colored georgette.

At The Playhouses

CAPITOL THEATRE Samuel Goldwyn now assumes the role of raider upon the ranks of the classic dancers, Francesca Braggiotti, of Florence, Italy, and Boston, Mass., is the latest stage dancer to succumb to the lure of the movies. She trained the nautch dancers in Gilda Gray's starring vehicle, "The Devil Dancer," now current at the Capitol Theatre, and herself led the ensemble. Miss Braggiotti, although just out of her teens, heads the Braggiotti-Denishawn School in Boston. For years she has been one of the principal Denishawn dancers. She and Ted Shawn were associated in fabricating the nautch steps in this story of Thibet and India.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE Finding himself among a dozen women in a Turkish bath on a ladies' night, having a battle with his prospective mother-in-law, a falling out with his sweetheart, going on a "wild party" with his father-in-law-to-be and being chased by cops who make a raid—these are just a few of the hilarious situations which Jack Mulhall, who is co-featured with Dorothy Mackaill, finds himself in in the comedy drama, "Ladies' Night in a Turkish Bath," the special attraction at the Playhouse Theatre.

DOMINION THEATRE Baseball magnates literally threw their parks at Harold Lloyd recently, when that film comedian made known his intention of filming scenes for his latest comedy entitled "Speedy," now showing at the Dominion Theatre, in and around one of the big league parks. Lloyd transported his entire company to New York to obtain authentic "shots" for his new comedy. In his new picture Lloyd portrays the role of a youth who is baseball crazy, so much so, in fact, that he spends his time day dreaming about it, and his diamond heroes. The picture is said to be one of the best comedies ever filmed, and is up to the standard set by Lloyd in all of his comedies.

COLISEUM THEATRE Sherman said war was hell, but it's just one long laugh in Warner Bros.' picture, "Ham and Eggs at the Front," now at the Coliseum Theatre. The stage presentation this week is Kesson's Orchestra, playing popular and novelty selections. This act is the big hit of the programme and receives many hearty rounds of applause. The verses of popular numbers are sung in harmony as well as being played. A saxophone specialty adds greatly to the snappiness of this act.

Columbia Shows Something Unusual In Photoplaying

If you want to see something unusual in Western photoplays, don't fail to see Hoot Gibson, Universal's well-known cowboy star, in "The Wild West Show," which is to be the feature attraction at the Columbia today. It's a circus from beginning to end, with Hoot Gibson appearing in the role of Rodeo Bill, star cowpuncher of the country. To begin at the beginning, he takes a gang of his cowboy cronies to a small town circus and because the performers don't come up to their expectations, they start a riot. The noise frightens the horses hauling a stage coach used in the show and the leading lady is carried away in one of the most breath-taking dashes ever screened. How it all ends happily is told in thrilling fashion by Hoot and his supporting cast.

Westminster Singers Crowning Glory of Cathedral Choirs

With the Westminster Glee Singers, who will appear here at the Royal Victoria Theatre on June 1 and 2, will be heard six boy sopranos who, for beauty of voice, artlessness and purity of expression, could not be excelled anywhere in the world. They are reminiscent of a beautiful phase of English musical culture, and have always proved one of the greatest sources of attraction wherever the Glee Singers have sung. It is one of the crowning glories of British singing that its boy sopranos have for centuries been unequalled in the world, and their pre-eminence has existed until the present day. It is not that other countries cannot produce the requisite material, but that the centuries of training which the old cathedral choirs have carried on for all these years has resulted in establishing a noteworthy tradition, which has set a very high standard for so many ordinary churches. The Gyro Club is sponsoring the appearance here of the Westminster Singers.

Alpine Club Is Visiting Falls At Leech River Today

This morning a party of about a dozen members of the Vancouver Island Branch of the Alpine Club are leaving by the Canadian National Railways line on a two days' visit to Leech River and adjacent falls. The party will leave the railway gas car at Leech River station, and proceed to the forks of the east and west branches, a distance of about seven miles, where a camp will be established and the night spent.

Early the following morning the party will set out, traveling as lightly as possible, and make the trip to the falls, which at this time of the year will present a magnificent appearance.

The mountain will be ascended until the top of the falls are reached, and later by ropes the descent will be accomplished, and the camp reached in time to make the return trip to Victoria by the afternoon car.

BROTHERS

A North American negro was getting the worst of it in a fight with a lascar on the quayside. Suddenly another North American negro leaped out of the darkness and vanquished the lascar.

The first negro approached his rescuer and held out his hand.

"Brudder," he said, "you shore done me a good turn tonight."

"Dat's all right," said the other. "We Anglo-Saxons jet gotta stick togedder."

Hudson Bay Co.'s Employees in Film News at Capitol

The Pathe weekly news film being shown this week at the Capitol Theatre includes an animated presentation of aquatic stunts by Victoria employees of the Hudson's Bay Company store. The pictures were taken at the Crystal Garden a few weeks ago when about sixty bathing enthusiasts from the big department store attended for the special purpose of arranging a programme for the benefit of motion picture fans all over the continent. The events depicted include a bathing beauty parade, fancy diving, the "ocean roll," and many other interesting features. The Hudson's Bay Company employees are to be commended for their enterprise in providing this unique and valuable piece of publicity for Victoria.

Bill Dove in "The Stolen Bride" At the Variety

Billie Dove wears so many beautiful gowns in "The Stolen Bride," her First National starring picture, now at the Variety Theatre, that she believes half her work during the filming of it consisted of changing costumes. As a distinguished Hungarian countess, she boasts a wardrobe in the picture that would be the envy of any real member of nobility. It includes a half dozen beautiful evening gowns, assorted sport garb, several expensive fur wraps and a variety of street wear. "The Stolen Bride" was written and produced by Carey Wilson and directed by Alexander Korda. The Hopi Indian reservation and Red Rock Canyon provided the locales for scenes in "The Devil's Saddle," the Ken Maynard Western picture which is also showing at the Variety today.

President Vetoes McNary-Haugen Farm Relief Bill

WASHINGTON, May 23.—President Coolidge today vetoed the McNary-Haugen Farm Relief Bill.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—President Coolidge has signed the Jones-White Merchant Marine Bill.

The measure authorizes a big replacement programme for the government merchant marine, requires sanction of but five of the seven members of the shipping board for the sale of vessels to private operators, doubles the existing $125,000,000 construction loan fund of the board and liberalizes the ocean contract mail system.

Western Republican independents waged a battle against the bill in the Senate, contending that the House has so changed it as to make it a subsidy proposition.

FOREST FIRES IN ALBERTA ALREADY

EDMONTON, May 23. — Heavy rain over the Edmonton district is believed to have put out the forest fires in the Breton area, forty miles southwest, reported yesterday.

CALGARY, May 23.—Three forest fires, all under control, and a very serious situation owing to unusual dryness for this time of the year summarizes the report of the Government forestry officials on Wednesday morning. With no break in the weather in sight and the need for rain urgent, officials believe more fires, which will be harder to control, will break out.

HONOLULU JURY IS SYMPATHETIC

HONOLULU, May 23. — The six persons who were charged with conspiracy to obstruct justice after the alleged swindling of Thomas Needham, British visitor here last Spring, were declared not guilty yesterday by a jury. The defendants were Charles F. Welsh, "Pat" Patterson, Clarence Wanke, Samuel Allen, R. E. Golden and John R. Kellett.

Needham reported to the authorities that he had been swindled out of $140,000 on horse races.

Chairman of Victoria Day Celebration

MR. WILLIAM T. STRAITH

Management of the Victoria Day Celebration has this year been placed in the hands of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, of which Mr. William T. Straith is president. All arrangements have been completed, and, if the first day's events prove to be any criterion, today's celebration should be one of the most successful held for some time. As chairman of the celebration, Mr. Straith has efficient co-workers. Efficient committees were appointed weeks ago to carry out the plans with the result that no detail has been overlooked in connection with the multitudinous events.

HUNDREDS MARK QUEEN'S MEMORY

Fifteen Hundred Children Attend Commemorative Service at Parliament Square

The earliest feature of the celebration was the Queen Victoria commemoratice service at the Parliament Square yesterday morning attended by 1,500 children. It was arranged by the Municipal Chapter of the Imperial Order of the Daughters of Empire, in conjunction with Mr. George H. Deane, municipal school inspector.

Many beautiful flowers were laid by the visitors on the pedestal of the statue, including a beautiful wreath made by Miss Pooley, of pansies with red roses and white flowers, which was laid by Mrs. Curtis Sampson, provincial regent of the organization, on behalf of the Municipal Chapter.

MASSED SINGING

Massed singing by the children featured the ceremony at the Parliament Buildings. Led by Mr. F. Waddington, "O Canada," "O God, Our Help in Ages Past," "Land of Hope and Glory" and "Land of Our Birth" were rendered. The Victoria Boys' Band, under Mr. G. H. E. Green, accompanied the singing.

At the corners of the Queen Victoria monument stood standard bearers of the Sea Cadets, Boy Scouts, Girl Guides and the I.O.D.E., while the Girl Guides and Boy Scouts formed a guard around the monument.

Mr. T. W. Hall acted as marshal of the ceremony with Mr. J. M. Campbell as assistant.

Among the groups were girls from the High School and South Park School, attractively attired.

IF THE TRUTH WAS TOLD

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY

FOOD IDIOSYNCRASIES

Many people have an idiosyncrasy towards certain kinds of food, and the cause of most people's susceptibility to the poison from these foods no doubt lies in psychic factors. For instance, if a young baby is frightened while eating a certain kind of food it may be that during his life, when he attempts to eat this kind of food he will be taken with violent nausea or possibly his skin will break out in a rash. This is not because he remembers consciously what happened when he was eating the food as a baby, but because the experience was indelibly impressed upon his unconscious mind, and every time he attempts to eat that food the unconscious remembrance of the unpleasantness connected with it will flash into his unconscious mind and bring out a definite action.

Babies who are made sick by taking too much milk which has spoiled will often not be able to drink milk all their lives—some will not be able to use even butter. These difficulties, however, can be overcome by mental and physical training.

For the past fifteen years physicians have been trying to gather together sufficient data to account for the peculiar sensitiveness of certain individuals toward certain foods, and the scientific name for this new science of study is "allergy," which may be defined as the condition of exaggerated sensibility to food substances which are harmless in similar amounts to the majority of members of the same family. Some doctors are becoming specialists in this science, and other doctors refer patients to them for examination. They have found that almost any food will poison some individual to such an extent as to produce hives, asthma, hay fever, and gastro-intestinal symptoms, such as vomiting and diarrhoea.

The pollen of flowers has been found to cause asthma in some cases. It is found that some people have a sensitiveness to so many of these proteins and pollens that it is almost impossible to feed them enough to keep up their strength without giving some of those foods irritating to their systems. An attempt has been made to cure these idiosyncrasies by making a serum from the "poisonous" food, and injecting it into the veins of the patient, but this has not met with any marked success.

Cheer up! It is not as bad as it sounds. In my investigations I have found that every one of these patients can be cured if they are put on a properly balanced diet, so that the general condition of acidosis in their bodies is cured. If good diet rules are allowed for a few days, the one who has found himself sensitive to meat, eggs, or fish, can eat these foods without any harmful results and without the necessity for the administration of serum.

A short fast on fruit juices will always cure any of these idiosyncrasies, and if a well-balanced, sensible diet is allowed afterward, there will be no recurrence of the former difficulty.

Send for my special article called "A Good Cleansing Diet."

Many Upsets Occur In Third Day's Play Of British Amateur

Major Hezlet, J. A. Stout and Sir Ernest Holderness Go Down to Defeat—Veteran Chairman of Lloyd's Bank Springs Surprise

PRESTWICK, May 23.—Several startling upsets featured the third day's play of the British amateur golf championship here today, with the major surprise being furnished by J. Lang, of Erskine, who defeated Major Hezlet, the strapping London Irishman, one up. Hezlet had surprised the golf world by defeating Dr. W. Tweddle, titleholder, and following his brilliant display when he went out in 33 and returned in 30, he was regarded as one of the favorites for the championship.

STOUT ELIMINATED

Another Scotsman also provided a sensation when A. R. Macallum, of South Staffordshire, after eliminating Cyril Tolley, outstanding British amateur, yesterday, followed this performance up by ousting J. A. Stout, of Bridlington, English champion, today, one up.

The surprises of the day were capped by Beaumont Pease, aged sixty, chairman of Lloyd's Bank, who eliminated Sir Ernest Holderness, former titleholder, two up.

Roger Wethered, who has won the championship once, been a semi-finalist twice, and tied for the British open, is the best known player left in the competition.

Douglas Grant, who is the sole surviving American, is a resident of London and entered from a British club.

Sir Ernest Holderness eliminated John McHugh, of California, from the championship, two and one.

Roger Wethered defeated R. H. Oppenheimer, four and three.

Andrew Jamieson won from Israel Sidbottom, one up, and Robert Harris defeated J. W. Pelhamburg, six and five.

Edward Blackwell eliminated E. C. Millard, of London, five and four.

J. T. Henderson, of the Dundonald Club, Ayrshire, defeated Harry Brower, Paris, France.

Douglas Grant, London, defeated Gordon Simpson, of the Royal and Ancient Club, three and two.

Canadian Davis Cup Team to Meet Japanese Today

MONTREAL, May 23.—The draw for the opening singles matches in the Davis Cup tennis round between Canada and Japan was made today at the Mount Royal Tennis Club.

In the first singles match tomorrow afternoon at the Mount Royal, Willard Crocker, Canada, meets Teiso Toba, Japan, while in the second match, Jack Wright, Canada, meets Yoshiro Ohta, Japan.

The doubles take place on Friday afternoon, with the final singles matches being played Saturday.

GRAHAM WINS BANTAM CROWN

Defeats Izzy Schwartz in Fifteen-Round Mix at Brooklyn—Soldier Takes Count of Nine

SAMMY BAKER TO MEET JOE DUNDEE

EBBETT'S FIELD, BROOKLYN, N.Y., May 23.—The mantle of bantamweight king fell tonight about the shoulders of Bushy Graham, fleet little phantom from Utica, N.Y., through a fifteen-round victory over Corporal Izzy Schwartz, boss of New York State flyweights.

A year ago last January, Graham took his first shot at the title, then held by Charley Phil Rosenberg, and was beaten after Rosenberg forfeited his title on the weighing-in scales and came into the ring far above the bantam poundage. Tonight the situation was reversed exactly, for the spunky little corporal made 111 1-2 pounds, less than the weight of his division, while Graham toed 118.

THE OLD STORY

It was the old, old story of a good little man giving pounds to a good bigger man, and falling by the wayside when he did so. Izzy, a gallant little figure, holding his own most of the way through the first ten rounds, tired rapidly after the tenth session. In the fourteenth, Graham floored him for a count of nine with a volley of left and right smashes to the chin. Schwartz just managed to keep his feet under a solid hammering through the final three minutes.

Through the first ten rounds there was little to choose between the tiny warriors.

SUCCEEDS TAYLOR

Graham, under a recent ruling of the National Boxing Association, will take the place of Bud Taylor, terror of Terre Haute, who was disciplined recently in the twenty-six states of the association for failure to defend his title. The New York Athletic committee, another outstanding boxing body, also ruled that the winner of tonight's fight would be recognized as the 118-pound king.

Sammy Baker, Mitchell Field soldier, won the right to fight Joe Dundee for the welterweight championship by defeating Nick Testo, of Troy, in a ten-round semi-final.

HALIFAX, May 23.—Ex-Dalhousie girls' basketball champions of Eastern Canada will leave Thursday for Edmonton to play two games on May 31 and June 2 with the Edmonton Grads, for the championship of Canada and the right to go to the Olympic Games.

LADIES' SAMPLE GAINS TOP RUNG

Ladies' Sample Shoe Store, 30; Aztecs, 14.

Oak Bay United, 15; Plimley & Ritchie, 5.

Albion Stove Works, 22; Mets, 20.

LADIES' SECTION

St. Saviour's, 20; Langford, 3.

WESTHOLME HOTEL LEAGUE

Marigold, 10; Colonist, 5.

Ladies' Sample Shoe Store representatives chalked up their third straight victory last night when they trounced the Aztecs, 30-14. The winners took a thirteen-run lead in the second inning, and from then on were never in danger.

Oak Bay United kept in the running for the "D" section honors by defeating Plimley & Ritchie, 15-5. Albion Stove Works managed to squeeze a two-run victory from the Mets in a free-hitting game at Central Park, the final score being: Albion, 22; Mets, 20.

Making their season's debut in the Ladies' League, St. Saviour's had an easy time with Langford, winning 20-3.

A BIG UPSET

In the Westholme Hotel League, Marigold sprung the season's upset when they handed the Colonist a 10-5 licking. The newsies had scraped through some close battles, but were looked upon to win the tussle.

Crescents had little difficulty in disposing of the Wilfert Lumber Company nine, whom they defeated 24-9.

TOMORROW'S GAMES

Four games will be played in the "B" section of the City League tomorrow as follows:

Foul Bay vs. Tillicums, at Central Park, lower diamond. Umpires, B. Chisholm and O. Taylor.

Navy vs. Bapcos, at Canteen Grounds. Umpires, Steve Redgrave and W. Allan.

Normal School vs Saanich Thistles, at Central Park, upper diamond. Umpires, E. Stock and T. Forbes.

All games will start at 6:30 o'clock. The home team is the first mentioned.

American Mixed Doubles Will Be Played at Victoria Lawn Tennis Club This Afternoon

Fifty members of the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club will take part in the American mixed doubles handicap tournament to be played at the Willows courts this afternoon, commencing at 2:30 o'clock.

The draw was made last night and the players divided into three frames. Each team will play a match of eight games against all the other players in their frame, and the successful three couples will meet in the final.

Following the finalists being named, a new handicap will be given, this being kept secret until after the matches have been completed. Prizes will be awarded to the frame winners, and will be presented following the tournament.

The list will be in charge of "Grumpy" Spring, manager of the team. The Kiwanis Club, at its luncheon yesterday, endorsed the proposal of the British Columbia Lacrosse Association that the Provincial Government should give a grant to cover the expenses of the trip.

Austria Takes Lead

COPENHAGEN, May 23.—Austria took a lead of 2 to 0 in the first day's play of the second round Davis Cup tie against Denmark today, by winning the first two singles matches. Which Comes First Grip or Swing?

By SOL METZGER

Alick Gerard, professional at Oakland, tells me that the method of holding the club has a direct and inseparable connection with the method in which the club is swung. And all good golf teachers claim that it is easier to adjust the grip to the swing than the swing to the grip. So, there must be a deal of importance in how one grips a club. Let me say right here that the term "grip" is misleading. It denotes tenseness. That, one should avoid.

Take Tommy Armour's grip. He gets plenty of length and is deadly with both iron and wood. Tommy puts his hands well over the club, as the sketch shows. Why? Because he is an upright swinger. This grip also permits him to hold the club with his fingers and to take it back without a feeling of awkwardness. Were he a flat swinger the right hand would be more under the club.

Try a few flat and upright swings with the right hand over, as Tommy uses it. You will feel cramped when practising the flat swing. You won't when practising the upright one. Another point about the grip is to have the "V" of the right hand—the line between thumb and first finger—pointing toward the right shoulder. The "V" of the left points somewhere between the right shoulder and chin. The point about gripping, if your swing is upright, is to use one that will permit you to cock your hands under the club at the top of the swing. Next—Armour and his mashie.

Local Riders Will Try To Break Davies' Time

Vancouver Flash Set New Record Last Year in Winning Daily Colonist Bicycle Race—Will Be Back for Big Event Next Month

When Jim Davies, crack bicycle rider from across the Gulf, flashed home in front of Bill Peden, last year, in The Colonist bicycle race, he not only set a new record for the nine-mile course, but established a mark for this year's competitors to shoot at. Davies covered the distance in 22.00 2-5, which was 44 2-5 seconds faster than Sutherland, who won the event the previous year.

The summary of results, giving the time of last year's competitors, is published herewith for the information of those riding this year.

The summary of results follows:

Class "A," riders over the age of sixteen, using racing bicycles: 1, James Davies, Vancouver; 2, Bill Peden, Victoria; 3, Stan Jackson, Victoria. Time 22:00 2-5.

Class "B," riders over the age of sixteen, using roadster bicycles: 1, Andrew Littlejohn, Vancouver; 2, B. G. Anderson, Vancouver; 3, Albert Pellett, Victoria. Time 24:11.

Class "C," riders under the age of sixteen: 1, Herbert Littlejohn, Vancouver; 2, Glen Robbins, Royal Oak; 3, Maurice Irving, Vancouver. Time 24:12.

Class "D," riders under the age of fourteen: 1, D. A. Blakey, Victoria; 2, Dave Cook, jr., Vancouver; 3, 3, Arthur Bellis, Victoria. Time 30:55 2-5.

Class "E," riders under the age of thirteen: 1, William Fletcher, Victoria; 2, S. Frost, Victoria; 3, H. MacLachlan, Victoria. Time 31:53 2-5.

Charlie Staples, twice winner of the coveted trophy, is expected to be Victoria's hope in the senior class. Staples is training daily and hopes to come home in front in order that the silverware might rest on this side of the Gulf.

Stan Jackson, who is at present residing on the Mainland, is expected to ride in Victoria colors. If such is the case, the Capital City's chances will be doubled. Entries are being filed daily, and everything points to the event being a bigger success than last year, when fifty-two riders started.

Who shot a seventy at Portland yesterday in the Oregon State amateur championship. Smith's card was one of the best of the day, but was only good enough to beat his opponent, 1 up.

innings saw W. A. Taylor, of Longview, carry L. H. Nichols, Portland Golf Club, to the twenty-fourth hole before the Portlander won out, while in the other, Arlo Kyle, Riverside, and Malcolm McLaughting, finished all square at the end of their eighteen, and then carried to the twentieth before Kyle won.

Rudie Wilhelm, defending the title which he won last year, Dr. O. F. Willing, Frank Dolp and R. Smith, all former Oregon champions, advanced to the second round.

Wilhelm eliminated Ben Dolp, two and 1, taking things easy. Willing defeated Edward Hogan, young Riverside star, to reach the second round. He played his usual steady game and won three to two.

SMITH IN FORM

Russell Smith played one of the best rounds of the day to defeat A. S. McIntyre, Alderwood, clicking off a two under par card of seventy, which was only good enough to defeat McIntyre one up.

Don Moe defeated Asa Smith, Portland Club, two up, and Roy Moe won from Arthur O. Jones, Waverley, five and four. Two contenders from outside the state, Tom McHugh, Seattle, British Columbia champion, and Alec Duncan, Washington State champion, both survived the first round. Duncan won from J. E. Sir James Douglas School Wins Senior Cup at Sports Meet

Close to 6,000 People Watch Students at Track and Field Day at Willows—George Jay Retains Junior Trophy

By the small margin of one point, athletes from Sir James Douglas School carried off the Mitchell & Duncan Trophy for highest marks in the senior events of the annual track and field meet of the Victoria and District Schools Sports Association held at the Willows yesterday afternoon. George Jay was second with twenty-two points, and Oaklands third with twenty-one. The Junior Trophy for the largest number of points secured in events for competitors under ten years of age went to George Jay for the second year, while Oaklands and Bank Street finished second and third respectively, with one point separating them. The Parent-Teacher Association's Cup for grand aggregate points was won by Oaklands with twenty-nine points; George Jay second with twenty-eight, and Sir James Douglas next in order with twenty-six.

The Mitchell & Duncan Trophy had been won four times by Sir James Douglas and Oaklands School, and in the last four years has been held alternately by one of these schools.

6,000 ATTEND

A crowd estimated at 6,000 for the better part composed of students, witnessed a lengthy programme run off in fine style. The officials in charge are to be complimented, as there was none of the usual stalling often seen in a programme of this nature. Among the cheering and happy crowd of youngsters were proud fathers and mothers watching the athletic prowess of their sons and daughters. Little tots, some not more than six years of age, others all the way to fifteen and sixteen years of age, carried the colors of their school to victory or defeat in one of the hardest fought meets of many years.

In the short races for the younger runners, each of the finishes were close and exciting, while with the older athletes oftimes were bunched at reaching the tape.

The quarter-mile relay for boys under fourteen, and the half-mile relay, open, provided sensational finishes, with the latter the better of the two. In the 440-yard race, Boys' Central carried off the honors with George Jay second and Oaklands third. The runners were bunched for the greater part of the way, but on reaching the 400-yard mark A. Anderson, of Boys' Central, sprinted away from W. Levy, of George Jay.

SPECTACULAR FINISH

The strong finish of Magee, the last runner for George Jay, carried his teammates to a great victory in the half-mile relay over South Park team. George McCulloch, from Sir James Douglas School, carried off the honors in the 220-yard race when he sprinted past W. Wong, from Boys' Central, in the last ten yards, to nose him out at the tape. The latter runner collapsed at the finish, the result of the fast pace he set from the start.

After leading the runners for more than three-quarters of the way, F. Morgan, from Esquimalt School, faltered in the last forty yards in the half-mile race and had to be content with third place. H. Osgoode, from George Jay, who had been running in second place all of the way, moved to the front towards the end and won a great race. Morgan was beat to the tape in the last yard by Stan Jones, of Oaklands.

In the bicycle races, over the half-mile track, Ken Roskelly had an easy victory in the under thirteen class, while Ray Walker had little difficulty in winning the open event.

Sir James Douglas retained the schools' tug-of-war championship when they defeated George Jay in the final, winning two out three pulls. Summary of results follow:

LACROSSE GAME WON BY OAKLANDS

Exhibition Affair at Athletic Park Draws Good Crowd for First Game of the Season

The lacrosse season was ushered in last evening when the Oaklands team, holders of the junior provincial championship, defeated the newly organized Canadian Puget Sound aggregation at the Athletic Park in an exhibition game by a 10-3 score. A good crowd witnessed a game that was fast and rugged, with the winners dominating the play throughout.

The junior champs scored twice in the opening stanza through the efforts of Williams, who was by far the best man on the field. They bulged the twine thrice in the second frame, when Williams went through for his third and fourth goals of the game, while Chapman accounted for the other. In the next period the millmen broke into the scoring column when Scafe sent the rubber into an open net after seven minutes' play. However, the Oaks scored three more before the period ended, with Viggers getting two and McKenzie one, while Crossley scored the millmen's second tally. In the final period the Oaks added two more through Chapman, while Scafe netted a third goal for the C.P.S.

The outstanding players for the winners were Williams, Chapman and Borde, while Scafe, Crossley and C. Bissell caught the eye for the C.P.S. Everett Taylor refereed and the teams were as follows:

How much golf can the average woman play without overtaxing her strength?

By GLENNA COLLETT
Former Women's Champion

* * *

Very few women make it a practice to play over eighteen holes of golf a day. This is done easily without overtaxing their strength. Some women golfers, however, play thirty-six holes occasionally in order to acquaint themselves with that length of play. This is done so that they will be prepared for such a game in case tournament play demands it. Also, after playing thirty-six holes, the eighteen-hole round seems exceptionally short in comparison. This adds a certain amount of confidence to their game when playing the shorter course.

STRONG FIELD TO PLAY FOR IRISH GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

DUBLIN, May 23.—Golfers from the British Isles and from other countries will compete in the Irish Open championship at Newcastle, County Down, next week. The entry list of eighty-seven includes Walter Hagen, Jose Jurado, of Argentina; Rufus Stuart, of Australia; George Duncan, last year's winner; Abe Mitchell, Charles Whitcombe and other well known British professionals.

WALTER HAGEN SET NEW MARK IN EXHIBITION

ZURICH, May 23.—Walter Hagen established a new record for Zurich's short but snappy little nine-hole course today, when he went around in 30 and 29 for a total of 59 in an exhibition match. The champion and Hugh Williamson, of Zurich, defeated Arthur D. Padley, of Zurich, and August Boyer, of Lucerne, 3 and 2, in a best-ball match.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

NEW YORK, May 23.—Although outhit by Boston Red Sox, 7-6, the Yanks bunched their drives today and squeezed out ahead of Bill Carrigan's battlers, 2-1. The victory gave the Yanks three out of four against the rejuvenated Red Sox.

First Triple Play

A triple play with the bases loaded in the ninth innings, the first in the major league this season, stopped the White Sox only momentarily and they made it two straight over Cleveland by winning today's Chicago game, 4-3, in ten innings.

Browns Win One

The St. Louis Browns ended their losing streak, which had run nine games, by taking the last game of the series at Detroit, 8-3. Effective pitching of Blaeholder and the wildness of Billings and Smith largely accounted for the St. Louis victory.

Cobb Over 3,000 Mark

The Athletics won their fifth straight by sweeping the fourth game of the series, 4-2, from the Washington Senators at Philadelphia. Bill Shore a rookie pitcher from Waco, Texas, held the visitors to four hits and blanked them until the ninth inning. Cobb hit three singles that brought his lifetime toll of one-base hits to over 3,000.

Larry Benton allowed Brooklyn only four hits in the second game and won his fifth victory of the season. The double-header was played before 25,000 fans, the largest week-day attendance in Brooklyn history.

To Protect Game

Cincinnati won a ten-inning game, 4-3, from Pittsburgh and took four out of five in the Cincinnati series. Manager Donnie Bush notified Umpire Magee that he would protest the game because of the batting position of Pipp, who replaced Kelly in the tenth inning. Pittinger ran for Kelly in the ninth and then remained in the game, while Zitsmann ran for Ford. Pittinger was put in Kelly's regular place and Pipp, who went to first, was dropped in Ford's place.

TOMMY Armour, Canadian and United States open champion, and Bobby Cruickshank, two leading American professionals, may play an exhibition match at the Uplands Golf Club early in September, according to information received yesterday. Nothing definite had been received up until last night, but it is practically certain that the tour will be arranged and the pair play here.

$20,000 PROFIT ON LIGHTWEIGHTS

NEW YORK, May 23.—Instead of a deficit, Tex Rickard has been agreeably surprised to find out that he made a profit of about $20,000 on the Sammy Mandell-Jimmy McLarnin lightweight title bout.

Revised figures, said Rickard, show that 20,410 fans paid to see the bout. Gross receipts of $152,564, far short of the $250,000 the promoter expected, was the result. After deducting federal and state taxes, the receipts were $130,964. Mandell received $49,111, or 37 1-2 per cent, and McLarnin $16,370 or 12 1-2 per cent. Other expenses left $20,000 as clear profit, the promoter said.

CREDIT EASIER, STOCK MARKET STAGES RALLY

Airplane Issues Make Spectacular Advance — High-Priced Industrials Move Upward

FIRMER TENDENCY ON BOND MARKET

NEW YORK, May 23.—A marked change in speculative sentiment took place in today's stock market which rallied in spectacular fashion after an opening period of irregularity. High priced industrials and specialties which had been hammered 25 to 75 points below their recent peak prices, in the sweeping reaction earlier in the week, staged a spirited recovery, while industrials and rails moved up 1 to 5 points on heavy buying for both accounts.

After the close, governors of the exchange voted to rescind the 2 o'clock closing order, and to return to the full five-hour session on Monday.

Airplane stocks soared in spectacular fashion. Wright climbed 16 3-4 points to 184 1-2, and closed within a fraction of the top. Curtiss closed 12 1-4 points higher at 132 3-4.

Spectacular gains were recorded by Adams Express, which jumped 17 1-2 points, and Houston Oil, which ran up 16 1-2 to 157. General Motors rallied 8 3-4 to 194. American International, Consolidated Gas, Dupont, Montgomery Ward and National Tea rallied 5 to nearly 9 points, and Radio soared 13 5-8 to 186.

New peaks for the year or longer were registered by nearly a score of issues. Delaware and Hudson moved up 4 1-2, and Erie, Wabash, Southern Pacific and Chesapeake & Ohio, and several others climbed 1 to 3 points. Total sales 2,881,400 shares.

Easing of time money rates late in the day and recovery of the stock market were reflected by slightly firmer prices in the bond market today. Trading was light, and early in the day the general list was inclined to heaviness, but later indications of an improvement in the credit situation seemed to inspire confidence.

Chicago Grain

(Supplied by B.C. Bond Corpn., Ltd.)

CHICAGO, May 23.—Wheat: Both Winnipeg October wheat quotations and those on September wheat at Minneapolis indicate some apprehension about the new crop. The government weekly report calls attention to unfavorable conditions in North Pacific states, where dry, warm weather has been detrimental. Temperatures were again rather unseasonably high in Montana and the Canadian Northwest, but cooler weather there is predicted. Export business was rather quiet, but one dispatch speaks of a little hard Winter wheat worked to France from Gulf. The hand-to-mouth buying policy in the flour trade may prove a material feature in the next three months, should there be any serious menace to the Spring wheat crop. Broomhall still insists on the need of importers for 170,000,000 bushels of wheat before August. To satisfy such a demand would require exports of 17,000,000 a week. Weather, especially in Western Europe, is still cold and wet, and a cable says European weather is similar to, if not worse, than that of 1924, when crops were extremely short. May first condition of wheat in Poland was 88 per cent of a five-year average, May first condition against, 106 per cent last year.

Corn: On the usual basis of figuring industrial demand for corn at primary markets, the total visible supplies would be insufficient to meet the demand for the next three months, and corn being delivered on May contracts is the cheapest corn available. Under such conditions, progress demand is at the mercy of fresh country receipts, and we believe it will take higher prices to induce enough of a movement to supply it.

Oats: Small current receipts of country run oats are selling at stiff premiums over oats for May delivery, which, even on the basis of today's advanced market are the cheapest oats available. The buying appeared to be by hedgers, who found it inconvenient to deliver, or who could merchandise to better advantage.

Winnipeg Grain

(Supplied by Branson, Brown & Co., Ltd.)

WINNIPEG, May 23.—The wheat market was decidedly strong again today with prices advancing from 2 to 2 7-8 cents over yesterday's close. There were a few slight setbacks, but the gains were held remarkably well. Most of the buying was by locals and commission houses based on apprehension that crop damage was taking place due to dry conditions over the Spring wheat belt both sides of the international border. Tuesday was undoubtedly a trying day on the crop, with temperatures running from 80 to 98 throughout Western Canada, and only a slight shower in the Edmonton district. Around midsession there was a fair volume of buying orders reaching the pit, which was said to be for Eastern account. Offerings were light throughout the day, about the only sellers of note being the pool who were selling July wheat. Export business overnight was very small and showed no improvement during the morning. The cash market was extremely dull, buyers backing away owing to the bulge in futures and no export business. There was very poor pressure on the cash market, large holders anticipating higher prices. Spreads throughout the day were all unchanged, but certain grades were showing signs of weakening. Complaints of high winds and dust storms were received from Regina this morning. The forecast promised cooler temperatures in the West, but there was no rain in sight. While little actual damage has taken place to date, there is no doubt that general rains would be beneficial and remove misgivings. There was profit-taking by longs in the final moments, which brought about a decline from top levels. European news continues bullish and crop conditions there are said to be about the same as 1924, when they produced 520,000,000 bushels less than last year. Liverpool was stronger than expected, closing 1 1-2 to 2 1-4 higher. The Argentine strike is nearing a settlement, which will permit larger shipments from that country. Deliveries, 938,000 to clearing house. Winnipeg futures closed 1 1-8 to 1 7-8 higher.

Coarse Grains—There was a fair domestic business in oats and a little export inquiry in the market. New York interests took a little barley, which may have been export business. Rye took its strength from wheat. Generally speaking trade volume was not large. Oats closed 7-8 to 3-8 higher, barley 1-2 higher, and rye 1 7-8 higher to unchanged.

Flax—Market higher. Spreading going on. Demand from crushers slow.

Toronto Mines

(Supplied by R. Castle & Co.)

TORONTO, May 23.—Trading was featureless and dull in today's session on the Standard Stock and Mining Exchange. The specialties which have enjoyed extended advances during the last week's trading, such as Noranda, Malartic, Teck Hughes and Sudbury Basin, showed little action. Noranda, at 24.60 to 24.70, was ten points firmer. The street hears that Noranda has been getting some remarkable gold values lately, exceeding all expectations of the management. Malartic, at 1.45 to 1.46, was off three points. Malartic sold as low as 141. This issue has a tremendous potential buying support, and on any reaction it is quickly picked up. Amulet at 3.35 to 3.37 was firm. Those in the know say that Amulet is now under accumulation by a strong pool. Ajax sagged four points to 64-65. Pend d'Oreille, at 16.85 to 17.00, was down 40. San Antonio was off six points to 43-45. Sudbury Basin was off thirteen points at 9.65 to 9.70. Thompson Callidai closed weaker at 97, off three. Teck Hughes at 10.10 to 10.15 was active and steady. Tob. was soft at 29 bid.

Barry Hollinger at 87 1-2, and Bidgood at 90-92, sold off one and one-half and three points respectively. Granada, under a fairly large volume, weakened a point and a half. Central Manitoba at 1.33-1.35, Kirklandlake at 1.82 bid, and Sherrit Gordon at 5.75 to 5.80, showed fractional changes, the general tone being steady. Opening at 26.75, McIntyre moved up to 27.20, closing at 27.00 to 27.05. Rumors are to the effect that a split will be made in the McIntyre stock some time this year, possibly two and one-half for one.

Founding a Fortune

Let Us Mail You a Free Copy of "Thumbnail Sketches of B. C. Mines"

Comparatively small sums, when properly invested, often grow into large amounts. Money carefully placed in selected British Columbia mining stocks at present market prices will spell future prosperity.

The mining industry in this province is only in its infancy. But during the past six months many persons, by shrewd buying, have founded comfortable fortunes.

We never recommend a mining stock until we exhaustively investigate the mine, satisfy ourselves that the property can earn good dividends, and that the management is efficient.

We invite you to consult us in person—or write for our market reports, which will be mailed free upon request.

Montreal Stock Letter

(Supplied by B.C. Bond Corpn., Ltd.)

MONTREAL, May 23.—For the third consecutive day the Montreal market experienced a reactionary movement, which carried prices to new low levels on the move. The exchange being closed tomorrow as well as next Saturday, there was little incentive for traders to re-enter the market, and in all likelihood there will be no great change in the situation until next week. Abitibi opened one lower and closed at 73½ for a loss of three points. Canada Power & Paper at its close of 44 compared with a low of 43 and a high for 45. Brompton finished unchanged at 55. Frazier duplicated yesterday's low of 67½ and closed at 68 for a net loss of one point. Port Alfred gained 2 to 124 and later reacted to 123. Price Bros. closed fractionally higher.

The activity and strength displayed by British Empire Steel in view of the general easiness were all the more impressive. The common sold up to 6½, closed at 6¼, a net gain of one point. The first preferred was up 2½ to 45, the second preferred, the most active of the group, finished at 9⅛, up 1¼. International Nickel, after opening easier at 89, sold up to 92 and closed at 91⅝, up two points. Steel of Canada recovered at 91¾, up two points, on a small turnover.

Smelters declined one to 257. Dominion Bridge eased off 1½ to 87½, but rallied to 88½ in the final trading.

Brazilian recovered some and the final price of 60½ showed a net gain of 1⅛.

Montreal Power at 108 was one point lower. Liquidation was less insistent on the curb, and, although most issues continued to react, losses were not so general as has been the case. There were signs that the low levels reached by several stocks had attracted some buying, resulting in moderate gains in a few instances. On the whole, however, there was no special desire shown either on the buying or selling side and trading fell off considerably in volume.

New York Stock Letter

(Supplied by Branson, Brown & Co., Ltd.)

NEW YORK, May 23.—A sharp recovery in values took place today in reflection of a temporarily oversold condition. The money rate was continued at six per cent, and this no doubt influenced some short covering, as considerable talk was going the rounds of a probable further stiffening in money rates. The airplane shares were early features on reports that Lindbergh would be connected with airplane transportation.

General Motors, however, was the leader in the day's rally and maintained its buoyancy throughout the dealings. Other specialties prominent in the advance were Radio, Gold Dust, Linseed and General Electric. Independent motors rallied in sympathy with the premier motor issue. Steel displayed a strong tone though there was little change in the tenor of the week's steel reviews. Coppers as a group gave a good account of themselves. Greene Cananea and Anaconda were among the more prominent in reflection of the recent favorable red metal prices. Rails rallied under leadership of the Missouri Pacific issues. Buying in these shares was in reflection of the impressive showing of this week's car loadings. Oils were in early supply, but rallied sharply in recognition of the week's decline in crude oil production. The day's rally was not surprising considering the extent of the recent decline in values, but the main propelling influence appeared to be evening up on the part of recent sellers. Further bulges are likely to attract more liberal selling as we believe that recent developments are not inclined to sustain upswings in values.

Whitney Letter

(Supplied by Branson, Brown & Co., Ltd.)

"The stand has been quite definitely taken and is adhered to, that what is being witnessed is simply a reaction in an uncompleted bull movement, a reaction which has plenty of excuse, such as every reaction has, but one which is, nevertheless, accompanied by too much which is artificial, unless practically all the recognized authorities on the subject are wrong to a greater extent than they have ever been in their lives.

"Provided just a little intelligence is used in the selection of securities, I believe that today is the time to buy stocks, not simply to hold them. I do not believe that we are going to resume any marked advance immediately, but do believe that this phase of reaction has been completed, that the market will turn upward today, undoubtedly later on sustain a secondary reaction, and then, under more normal volume and in less volatile issues, continue its advance.

"Detroit interests, who have been accumulating Briggs Body for many weeks, took advantage of the general market reaction of the past two days to virtually complete accumulation, and yesterday cleaned the market up to the previous top of the year. Purchase of this issue is recommended at this time below the figure which thus far stands as the top for the year.

"N.Y.C. should be bought and held until it betters 200. Mo. Pacific common should be acquired at this time within the range of 60-64 and definitely held. American Agr. Chem. preferred should likewise be bought in anticipation of the recapitalization plan while it is available in the low 70's. United States Leather A has reacted enough, buy it; likewise Canadian Pacific."

"What donkeys we are!"
"Kindly speak in the singular."
"Well, what an ass you are."

BEAVER MINE IS BENEFITED BY WORK ON BELL

Mr. Roy Clothier, who is in the city for a few days, will return shortly to Beaverdell, where he is carrying on successful operations at Beaver Mine. Work has been carried on successfully at the property throughout the year, with shipments of ore being made to the Trail smelter.

The Beaver is entering upon a new move in the development of the mine, and for this purpose a new equipment will be purchased. This work will be proceeded with at once.

The new development in hand at the Beaver is made necessary through the fact that the adjoining property, the Bell, operated by Messrs. Dunc McIntosh and Henry Lee, have by their work proved up a valuable body of ore on the Beaver.

The Bell has been a most successful property which is being worked in a conservative way by the owners who are satisfied to work one shift of about seventeen men a day and make steady shipments to the smelter. The mine gives the owners a very good return, and the development work that has been carried out proves that there are many years of production ahead.

In the work done on this claim one of the ore bodies was followed right up to the boundary of the Beaver. This allows the owners of the latter property to proceed with an absolute certainty in the opening up of this ore body on their claims. This plan is to be carried out, and it is for this purpose that new machinery will be obtained.

THE BIDDING

1S	DBL	2H	Pass

Final Bid ..2S.... Played by ..South....

Salient Points at the Bidding

West, in hopes of a Heart response from his partner, makes a weak informatory double of South's bid. North denies Spades by bidding two Hearts, relieving East of the obligation to respond. South, not requiring support in Spades from his partner, rebids that suit and obtains the contract.

Salient Points at the Play

Trick 2. South's play of the ten of Diamonds warns East that the return of a Diamond might result in giving South a Club discard. Accordingly East leads a Club to give West an opportunity to make his high Club honors if held, before such discard can be made.

Tricks 3 and 4. Lacking a better lead, West continues with Clubs.

Trick 8. After three rounds of trumps, South is left with three and East with two. A continuance of the suit must give East a trick in it. Moreover, if South retains all three trumps to the end, he must trump the eleventh trick and lead a trump to East, which would give the adversaries the game-saving trick. Declarer therefore plans to dispose of his superfluous trump by ruffing a Diamond.

Tricks 10 to 13. Declarer ruffs Dummy's good Diamond, and by putting Dummy in the lead with the Ace of Hearts, assumes a tenace position over East's two trumps and takes the last two tricks, scoring game on the hand.

(On acquisition of all outstanding Preferred Ordinary Stock and Deferred Ordinary Stock shares of British Columbia Electric Railway Company, Limited, and including Bonds, Debentures and Shares of subsidiary companies, outstanding in the hands of the public, as at June 30th, 1927, and based on exchange rate of $4.85 to £1.)

Preferred Shares of Subsidiary Companies	11,984,000

Class "B" Shares (No Par Value)	1,000,000 shares*

*Authorized 1,500,000 shares.

THE CORPORATION: British Columbia Power Corporation Limited has been incorporated under the laws of the Dominion of Canada, to acquire the outstanding Preferred Ordinary Stock and Deferred Ordinary Stock and shares of British Columbia Electric Railway Company, Limited, a British Company incorporated under the Companies' Acts (Imperial). The Corporation has already contracted for the purchase of more than 85 per cent. of the combined outstanding amounts of the above-mentioned stocks and shares, and offers are outstanding for the purchase of the remainder. Acquisition of the stocks and shares already contracted for will give the Corporation control of the most extensive system of public services in Western Canada.

BRITISH COLUMBIA ELECTRIC RAILWAY COMPANY, LIMITED: British Columbia Electric Railway Company, Limited has operated successfully for more than thirty years. Directly, or through subsidiary companies, it owns and operates electric railway systems in Vancouver, Victoria, New Westminster, North Vancouver, South Vancouver, Point Grey and Burnaby, in the Province of British Columbia, as well as an extensive chain of Interurban lines, and, in addition, supplies all the electric and gas services in these and a number of other important municipalities in British Columbia.

This undertaking is one of the largest hydro-electric producers in Canada. All the electricity used or sold in the system is developed by the Company or its subsidiary Companies. The aggregate ultimate horse-power available for development amounts to 638,000 h.p. of which 202,300 h.p. is now developed: the entire system serves over 98,000 customers with electric light or power, 38,700 customers with gas, and operates 353 miles of electric railway lines.

EARNINGS: The books and accounts of British Columbia Electric Railway Company, Limited, and subsidiary Companies have been examined by Messrs. Price, Waterhouse & Company, Chartered Accountants, Vancouver, and their report shows that combined earnings, after providing for Bond and Debenture interest and Federal and Provincial taxes, and after providing for dividends on stocks ranking prior to the stocks and shares proposed to be acquired by British Columbia Power Corporation, Limited, but before provision for depreciation, were as follows:

Year ended June 30th, 1925	$2,895,401
Year ended June 30th, 1926	3,104,496
Year ended June 30th, 1927	3,383,808

Based upon earnings for nine months ended March 31st, 1928, reported by Messrs. Price, Waterhouse & Company, it is estimated that combined net earnings for the completed twelve months ended June 30th, 1928, after all prior charges, including depreciation and available for dividends on the stock and shares proposed to be acquired by British Columbia Power Corporation, Limited, will be $2,000,000.

It is confidently expected that the earnings of the Company will continue to show substantial growth, and, based on developments now under way it is conservatively estimated that corresponding combined net earnings for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1929, will substatially exceed those of the current fiscal year.

TERRITORY SERVED: The territory served embraces an area of over 1,500 square miles with a population of over 375,000. Vancouver is the fourth largest city in Canada, and with adjacent municipalities, has experienced consistent and rapid growth. The city is the financial, commercial and distributing center for the Province of British Columbia, and is one of the most important seaports on the Pacific Coast. As a result, the city and the surrounding area—known as Greater Vancouver—is regarded as one of the most prosperous communities in Canada. The development of Western Canada has an important bearing upon the growth of Vancouver as an ocean port. The city has direct steamship connection with Australia, New Zealand and the Orient, and, since the completion of the Panama Canal, Vancouver has developed communications of growing importance with New York and other Atlantic ports of the Americas as well as with those of Europe and Africa.

WORKING CAPITAL: Through the issue of Class "A" and Class "B" shares the Company provides for the acquisition of the Preferred Ordinary Stock and Deferred Ordinary Stock and shares of British Columbia Electric Railway Company, Limited, and in part for other corporate purposes. After providing funds sufficient to pay for the balance of the above mentioned stocks and shares outstanding, if acquired, there will remain in the treasury of British Columbia Power Corporaton Limited, cash in excess of $2,500,000. In addition, as at March 31st, 1928, working capital of British Columbia Electric Railway Company, Limited, and subsidiary companies was in excess of $4,000,000.

MANAGEMENT AND DIRECTORATE: The Management of the undertaking will remain unchanged and upon completion of organization the Directorate will include George Kidd, President, Vancouver; W. G. Murrin, Vice-President, Vancouver; A. T. Goward, Vice-President, Victoria; Sir Frank S. Barnard, K.C.M.G., Victoria; W. J. Blake Wilson, Vancouver; John Davidson, London, England; Sir Herbert S. Holt, Montreal; Lord Rothermere, London, England; A. J. Nesbitt, Montreal; Andrew P. Holt, Montreal and London, England; J. H. Gundy, Toronto; J. B. Woodyatt, Montreal, and S. Godin, Jr., Montreal.

We offer these shares, subject to prior sale and change in price, for delivery if, as and when issued and accepted by us and subject to the approval of counsel.

Price: $60.00 per share

With bonus of one share of Class "B" stock with each four shares of Class "A" stock.
Fractional shares of Class "B" stock will be adjusted at the rate of $20.00 per share.

HEADQUARTERS FOR RELIABLE NURSERY STOCK
FRUIT AND ORNAMENTAL

WHILE it is now rather late for planting Fruit Trees and Deciduous Ornamentals, this is the best time for the planting of Conifers, such as Cedrus Deodara and Libani, English and Irish Yews, Junipers, Cryptomerias, Retinosporas, etc., etc., and all the Broad-leaved Evergreens, such as Rhododendrons and Azaleas, Hollies, Laurels, Veronicas and many others.

These are shipped with a solid ball of soil adhering to the roots, and at this time when they are just starting to grow the root growth is most active, and they take most kindly to new surroundings if looked after when transplanted.

Come out to the Nursery on Winkinson Road and make your own selection from the growing stock. Ask for free catalogue.

Body Found in Sea

VANCOUVER, May 23.—Attracted by sea gulls hovering overa corpse, Andy Cater, of Bloomfield's Logging Camp, head of Jervis Inlet, discovered the body of a man floating off Saginaw Creek, Agamemon Channel, according to reports to provincial police. The body, which was that of a man aged thirty-five, clothed in a khaki shirt, dark trousers and boots, disappeared under the surface when Cater attempted to recover it. Provincial Police Constable Thomas Byatt, of Powell River, searched the locality without success.

BY "WINGS"

The most amazing nonsense appears in print now and then about airplanes and the the airplane industry, and one of the most diverting accumulations of misinformation we have seen for a long time appeared in various newspapers on this continent recently in the form of a "news" story under a New York date line.

The anonymous author of the article probably knows a great deal about stocks and bonds and the New York Exchange; but, to put it charitably, he must know very little about aviation. He may have been quite correct in writing that "Short interests are being trapped in both Curtiss and Wright, in both of which the shares capitalization is small, and lends itself readily to running in shorts." What we know about the New York stock market could almost be written on the business side of a postage stamp without seriously interfering with the portraiture. But we do profess to know a little about aviation, and when, on reading further, we found ourselves admonished to "let it sort of sink into your head and trickle down to your feet, that the industry (meaning the aviation industry) has gone back in the past ten years, in many respects——" we felt inclined to laugh, and then to weep.

We should be most interested to find any evidence at all that the airplane industry has "gone back" in any respect in North America since the war. In Europe, it is true, fewer airplanes are being manufactured, because several thousand are no longer being shot down in flames or out of control over the trenches each year. But that is not true of America. In America scores of airplane factories have sprung up since the war and new ones are still being built. The production of airplanes is growing by leaps and bounds on this continent. The United States has a total of 3,230 commercial and civil airplanes. The total number of commercial airplanes in Germany, France, England and Italy combined is 1,877. And yet, with engaging assurance, the New York stocks and bonds expert writes in his article that "commercial aviation today is backward in this country (the United States) as against Europe!"

And he continues, "and here (the United States) aviation was further advanced in 1919-1920 than now, as regards applied aeronautics in passenger traffic." What he means by the resounding phrase, "applied aeronautics in passenger traffic," we must confess we do not exactly know. It doesn't really matter very much, save that, if he is trying to tell the public that there were better commercial machines in 1919-20 than there are now or that there were more passengers carried then than now, he is misleading the public. There were practically no aircraft at that time designed specifically for commercial purposes. Almost all of them were designed for use in war. Who would think of using a Bristol Fighter, one of the finest of the war machines, for passenger-carrying purposes? The operator would be bankrupt in no time. Modern machines are vastly different from the machines produced in the latter part of the war. The passenger carrying business in 1919-20 was as a drop in the bucket compared with what it is today when hundreds of people are being flown over regular air routes each day.

"Several aero passenger lines," he continues, "that operated then (1919-20) have gone out of existence." Really! And so, without doubt, have several steamship lines, several motor bus lines, several railroads. But the steamship, motor bus and railway industries are still flourishing. Of course, some of the early air lines went out of business. They didn't have the right sort of machines, their equipment would not permit them to make money. But it is a different story today. Though "several" lines went bankrupt in 1919-20 scores of new ones have sprung into being in the past twelve months, with every prospect of making a success of the business of flying. Two regular daily commercial air services are being planned at the present moment to embrace this very city of Victoria—one of them, the B. C. Airways, Ltd., is a local firm—and a third company at Port Angeles, plans to give an irregular service to this city soon.

"The commercial use of the plane has expanded," he writes, "by way of carrying the mails and some express, and commercial passenger lines run from Los Angeles, and break even under very exceptional conditions, locally, but whether the business would pay elsewhere, or even continue to pay there, is far from demonstrated."

Quite so. The commercial use of the plane certainly has been expanded in the establishment of mail and express routes. A score of new ones has been established in the past year in both Canada and the United States—one of them a nice long one, extending from Chicago to San Francisco, and earning thousands and thousands of dollars for Mr. Boeing, of Seattle, and his associates.

But why speak of Los Angeles so innocently as being the only possessor of commercial passenger airlines? Los Angeles certainly isn't that. There are aerial passenger lines in Seattle, Portland, Winnipeg, London, New York, Alaska, China, India. We wouldn't be the least bit surprised at news that there was one in Timbuctoo. And the Los Angeles companies are not just "breaking even." Their business is growing fast, we are informed.

And what are the exceptional conditions? Density of population and the California climate, we suppose. But other regions are just as favorably situated in respect of available pay-loads, and airplanes sem to fly over the North Pole as successfully as under the California sun.

Since the aerial passenger and freight business is already paying in Los Angeles, it is surely fair to think that it has ben demonstrated that it will continue to pay. And it certainly has been demonstrated that the airplane business is paying elsewhere. Lots of firms are making money. The Western Canada Airways, of Winnipeg, for instance, have made enough money in about two years to be able to place orders for a couple of hundred thousand dollars' worth of new airplanes. Other companies throughout the continent are expanding likewise.

And then the New Yorker suggests that the airplane will not be able to compete successfully with the dirigible. If he really thinks so, he must never have realized that the people who should know most about aviation, the people who make money by building machines to fly, are of the contrary opinion en masse. Hundreds of firms are manufacturing airplanes; only two concerns, to the best of our knowledge, are manufacturing dirigibles, or "Zeppelins" for commercial purposes. One of these is in England, the othe rin Germany.

But "the unkindest cut of all" is the statement to the effect that aviation has "gone back" since 1919-20. Surely he has never heard of the great technical victories won by aeronautical engineers in the past ten years, of refinements in engine design, of the Handley-Page slotted wing, of the auto-giro, of brakes on wheels, of direction finding and direction giving wireless for the pilot flying long distances, of the speed record of more than 300 miles an hour as compared with about 150 miles an hour in 1919; of the new altitude and endurance record, of the thousands of airports in existence, of many, many things, the sum total of which means a truly amazing progress.

We wonder if he knows that if he tried to buy a Wright "Whirlwind" engine from the factory he would have to wait a long, long time for delivery, for the very simple and significant reason that many people want to buy Wright "Whirlwind" engines.

It is well, perhaps, that the public should be warned to be careful about investing their money in the airplane industry. One should be careful about investing one's money in anything. Some machines are being built today that will never be a lasting success. Some commercial airlines are being established that will never succeed for a variety of reasons—poor equipment, poor technical advice, poor financing, and so on. Wise and unwise investments can be made in the airplane industry, but so, also, can they be made in any other industry. But there are engine and airplane manufacturing firms and aerial transportation companies all over this continent making profits today—some of them making enormous profits—and their ranks are being increased at a rapid rate. Fortunes are going to be made in the air just as they have been made on the water and in the railway transportation business. And probably, for very excellent reasons, no company has better prospects of making a success of commercial aviation than the local firm, the British Columbia Airways, Limited.

Consider the smallest kind of company as an example of what the airplane can do. The Port Angeles Air Transport Company, Inc., has carried 524 passengers in the first thirty days of its operation. For the most part these must have been "sight-seeing" passengers. But that record was achieved with only one small airplane — a single-engined three-seater. The fares totaled $1,407.75 in that period, and the plane covered 7,920 miles during eighty-one hours and ten minutes of flying. The company is planning to purchase a Stinson-Detroiter six-seater monoplane in a short time for operation between Port Angeles and this city, and Port Angeles and Seattle. That seems a smack of success right heartily.

The meaning of air transportation to the general public is strikingly illustrated by the journey from San Francisco to this city. A Californian tourist can fly from San Francisco to Seattle in six and one-quarter hours on a regular passenger air line. He can fly from Seattle to Victoria in an hour, or less. If he made the journey between Seattle and this city by boat he would spend just about as long on the boat as it would take him to fly from San Francisco to Seattle. That illustrates why aerial transportation today is a success.

ACID STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Sufferers From Indigestion CUT THIS OUT

"Stomach trouble, dyspepsia, indigestion, sourness, gas, heartburn, food fermentation, etc., are caused nine times in ten by chronic acid stomach," says a well-known authority.

Burning hydrochloric acid develops in the stomach at an alarming rate. This acid irritates and inflames the delicate stomach lining and often leads to gastritis or stomach ulcers. Don't dose an acid stomach with sweet or alkaline diastants that only give temporary relief from pain by driving the sour, fermenting food out of the stomach into the intestines.

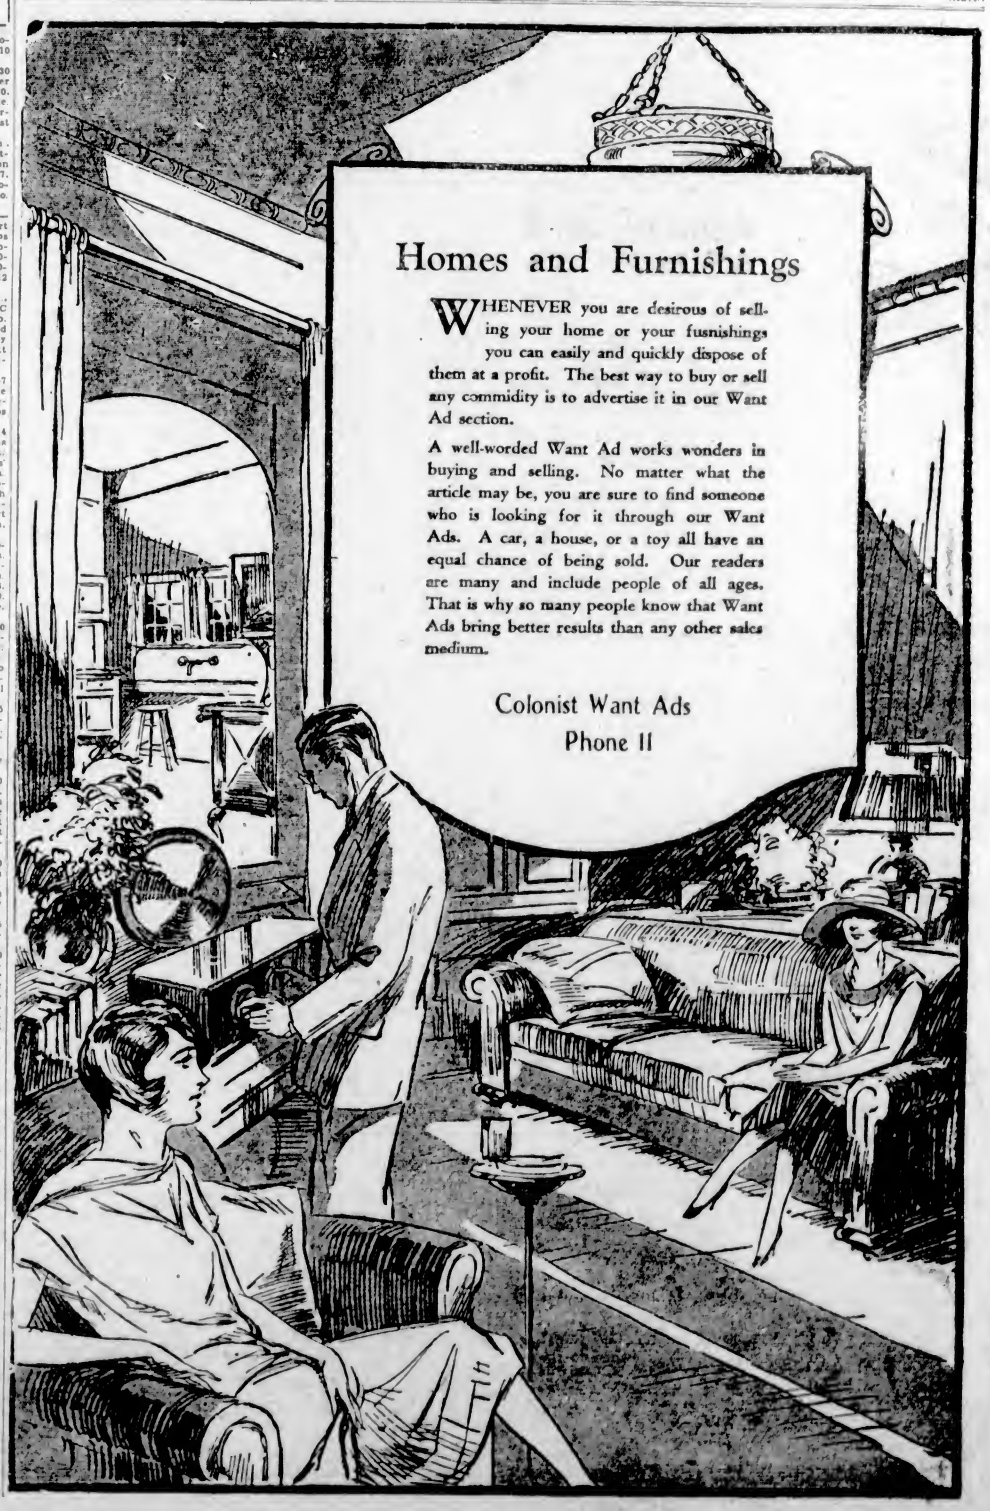

Instead, neutralise or sweeten your acid stomach after meals with a little Bisurated Magnesia and not only will the pain vanish but your meals will digest naturally. There is nothing better than Bisurated Magnesia to sweeten and settle an acid stomach. Your stomach feels and feels fine in just a few minutes. Bisurated Magnesia can be obtained from any reliable druggist in either powder or tablet form. It is safe, reliable, easy and pleasant to use, is not a laxative and is not at all expensive. (Advt.)

United States Warship Will Dock Here Early Today From California

On a mission to promote lasting friendship between neighboring nations, the United States battleship Pennsylvania will dock at the Ogden Point piers from San Francisco at 7 o'clock this morning, according to word received here yesterday by Mr. G. A. Bucklin, United States Consul.

Members of the crew will take part in the Victoria Day celebrations today and the ship will be open to inspection by the general public.

The Pennsylvania will remain here until early Monday morning, it is expected.

The Pennsylvania, under the command of Commander C. T. Owens, has a complement of seventy-six officers and 1,176 men. She is one of the largest battleships of the United States navy, having a displacement of 31,400 tons, a length of 608 feet, a beam of ninety-seven feet and a draft of twenty-nine feet.

Her armament consists of twelve fourteen-inch guns, fourteen five-inch guns, eight three-inch anti-aircraft guns, four six-pounder saluting guns, and two twenty-one-inch submerged torpedo tubes.

She is propelled by four screws, driven by Curtis turbines of 31,500 horsepower. Her speed is twenty-one knots.

In addition, the Pennsylvania carries a seaplane catapult operated by compressed air. Two observation type planes with a maximum speed of 110 miles an hour are part of her regular equipment.

At San Francisco the battleship took aboard fifty United States naval cadets for training purposes.

Following her commission in 1916, the Pennsylvania served in the Great War as flagship of the commander-in-chief of the United States fleet. Shortly after the Armistice was signed, she acted as convoy to the U.S.S. George Washington when the latter vessel conveyed President Wilson to the Peace Conference.

In 1921 the Pennsylvania led the United States battle fleet on a cruise through the Panama Canal and down the west coast of South America for a visit of international courtesy to Chile and Peru. The "Keystone Ship" of the United States Navy, as the Pennsylvania is called, has steamed more than 200,000 miles, or something like eight times the distance around the world.

PACIFIC COAST TRAVEL HEAVY

Transcontinental Tourist Traffic Will Break All Records This Season, Says Official

VANCOUVER, May 23.—All records for transcontinental tourist traffic to the Pacific Coast will go by the board this season, according to N. R. Desbrisay, general passenger agent for the Canadian Pacific Railway in British Columbia.

"The Summer influx to the Pacific Coast has got away to a quicker start than ever before," said Mr. Desbrisay, "and the early traffic, together with the possibilities held out by advance bookings indicate that Vancouver and the Island resorts will be more than ever a playground for travelers from all parts of the continent this year."

Aside from the "long distance" tourist rush this season, Mr. Desbrisay commented upon the extraordinary attraction possessed by the Island routes as shown by holiday travel originating in Vancouver. With an extra boat scheduled for the Vancouver-Victoria run on Wednesday night, an excursion booked almost to capacity for the holiday, apart from the regular boat schedule, and nine crossings on the Vancouver-Nanaimo route, Vancouverites are moving in great numbers to the many holiday resorts on the Coast.

HOLIDAY TRAFFIC PROMISES RECORD

Steamers and Trains Will Bring Many Visitors Here Today—Vanguard Arrived Yesterday

Arrivals by steamer, train and stage in Victoria yesterday assured record travel for the holiday. The assured fine weather proved a strong drawing card, and the additional attraction of Canadian and American sailors arriving for the event, apart from the celebration programme, gave promises of a record attendance at the features planned for the day's amusement.

The B.C. Coast Steamship Service sent the Princess Victoria to Vancouver last night to serve as an extra boat to this city, and she will be available tonight to take back visitors who cannot be accommodated on the ordinary sailing for Vancouver. About 12:30 o'clock the Princess Marguerite will arrive with a special excursion from Vancouver, returning late in the afternoon. This sailing has been booked up. To provide for the holiday celebration at Nanaimo, and supplement the sailings of the Princess Elaine and the Motor Princess from the Mainland, there will be an additional steamer, leaving Nanaimo later than the ordinary sailings.

Hotel traffic had a distinct stimulus from the holiday movement yesterday, and there appeared to be every prospect of a record for May 24 being achieved.

Several golfing parties have made reservations, principally from the American side.

LAUNDRY YIELDS BIG OPIUM HAUL

Customs and Police Seize $3,000 Worth of Narcotics Being Taken Ashore From Ship

VANCOUVER, May 23.—Concealed in a large bundle of laundry which was being taken ashore from the Danish motorship Tacoma, a parcel of narcotics valued at $3,000 was discovered by Canadian customs and Royal Canadian Mounted Police officers yesterday. The ship arrived from the Orient on Sunday.

The parcel contained 108 tins of opium and a small amount of morphine. Two men, Jans Peterson, forty, who carried the bundle of laundry off the ship, and Otto Westerlund, fifty, driver of the automobile into which the laundry was loaded, were arrested.

Peterson is the ship's steward, and Westerlund is a farmer of Lulu Island, near Vancouver, police said.

A thorough search of the vessel is being made following the arrest.

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the tables, the tides rise or fall continuously during two successive tiday periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of lower low water.

Esquimalt—To find the depth of water on the sill of the drydock at any time, add thirty feet to the height of high water as given above.

FERRY MERGER AT SOUND PORT

SEATTLE COMPANIES UNITE IN MILLION - DOLLAR COMBINE

All Puget Sound Routes Except One Are Involved in Big Consolidation

SEATTLE, May 23.—A million dollar ferry merger, which brings together all Puget Sound routes from Vashon Island north to Port Ludlow, with the exception of the Puget Sound Navigation Company, was announced yesterday by Capt. J. L. Anderson, president of the Kitsap County Transportation Company, and Capt. J. Howard Payne, head of the Sound Ferry Lines.

These companies are parties to the merger, but in addition it also embraces the interests of Capt. F. G. Reeve and associates in the Washington Route and in the Whidby Island Transportation Company.

ROUTES INVOLVED

Routes involved are the Vashon and Bainbridge Island and Kitsap County services of the Kitsap County Transportation Company in which five ferries and six passenger steamers are operated; the Edmonds-Port Ludlow and Olympic Peninsula route of the Sound Ferry Line, with three vessels operating, and the Washington Route to Bremerton and Kingston, served by the steamers F. G. Reeve and Kingston, and the Whidby Island Route to Oak Harbor via Whidby Island served by the Atlanta.

IN LITIGATION

One half the ownership of the Sound Ferry Line is involved in the merger as the other half is owned by the Puget Sound Navigation Company. A deadlock arising from this joint ownership recently resulted in the appointment of a receiver, although it is said that no question of solvency is involved.

The deal was effected with the exchange of stock in the Kitsap County Transportation Company for the stock of the other companies. All will retain their identities, but all will be operated by the Kitsap County Transportation Company.

This latest waterfront move places Capt. John L. Anderson in a commanding position in the ferry operation field, as he now operates the entire Lake Washington fleet of these craft as well as others on Puget Sound.

EMMA ALEXANDER TO DOCK TONIGHT

The Emma Alexander, of the Pacific Steamship Company's coastwise fleet, is expected to dock at the Rithet Consolidated piers from California at about 10 o'clock tonight, according to word received here yesterday by Mr. W. M. Allan, local agent for the company.

Fifty passengers will disembark from the vessel at this port, and forty tons of cargo will be put ashore before she sails for Seattle.

COASTER ARRIVES FROM CALIFORNIA

After discharging forty-five tons of general cargo from California at the Ogden Point piers, the Canadian National Steamship Canadian Coaster, which docked from the South at 7 a.m., sailed for Vancouver at 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning.

Yachts Will Race Today Over Five-Mile Course

Nine Sailing Boats Entered in Annual Victoria Day Race Off Dallas Road for Virtue Cup—Picturesque Event Will Begin at 12:30

As one of the most colorful events of the Victoria Day programme, the annual yacht race for the Virtue Cup will be held in the Strait off Dallas Road at 12:30 o'clock today.

This event will bring the best yachts in the city into competition, and an exciting race is anticipated.

A five-mile course has been laid out by the yacht race committee in conjunction with yachting officials and, should there be a stiff breeze at the time of the race, the course will be sailed twice. If the wind is light, however, only one turn of the course will be made.

Starting at Finlayson Point, known also as Horseshoe Bay Point, the yachts will proceed in a westerly direction, passing Brotchie Ledge on the outside and turning at a buoy off the end of the Ogden Point breakwater to take an easterly course paralleling Dallas Road to the starting point and passing on the outside of Glimpse Reef.

It will be an open handicap race, and the following are the entries: Commodore J. Harper's Fayth, three white sails and white hull; Rear-Commodore J. F. Dick's Asthoe, two brown sails and cream hull; Mr. W. E. Adams' Truant, three white sails and white hull; Major W. H. Langley's Dorothy, two white sails and white hull; Mr. N. P. Blandy's starboat, two white sails and white hull; Mr. R. F. Blandy's starboat, two white sails and green hull; Mr. W. T. Barrett's starboat, two white sails and red hull; Mr. R. Whittington's catboat, one white sail and white hull, and Mr. H. Barnes' Minena, three white sails and white hull.

AIR EXPRESS COMING WEST

CANADIAN COMPANY PLANNING TO EXTEND ITS OPERATIONS

Action Will Follow Establishment of Regular Routes, Says Vice-President of Company

WINNIPEG, May 23.—An extension of the air express service inaugurated in Eastern Canada recently by the Canadian Express Company into Western Canada may be expected as soon as regular air routes are established, according to T. E. McDonnell, vice-president of the Canadian Express Company, who arrived here today from Toronto.

Up to the present time, Mr. McDonnell says, there are no established routes in Western Canada such as now exist between Rimouski and Montreal, and Ottawa and Toronto in Eastern Canada. He stated that the company was prepared to extend its air package service just as soon as permanent routes are established west of the Great Lakes.

While the air service has only been in operation by the company for package transportation since May 1, Mr. McDonnell stated that the results had been entirely satisfactory. He cited one case recently where some of the latest Paris fashion creations were shipped from Paris on Saturday and were on display in a Toronto department store nine days later, the goods being rushed from the Empress of Australia at Rimouski through the air service of the company.

Such a service, he said, would undoubtedly prove a great boon to business and financial men in the Dominion.

Mr. McDonnell arrived here on a general Spring inspection tour of the company's facilities in the West.

ENTERTAINMENT MUCH ENJOYED

CAPITAL SHOW GIVEN BY PUPILS OF COURTENAY SCHOOLS

First Annual High School Concert Given in Gaiety Theatre Proves Great Success

COURTENAY, May 23.—A capital evening's entertainment was staged in the Gaiety Theatre on Monday by pupils of the Courtenay schools. The acting was a most creditable display and reflects much credit on Principal G. W. Stubbs, who produced the two plays. The concert, known as the first annual high school concert, commenced with selections by the boys' band, which continues to show improvement.

The parts taken in the first of two plays, "Two Crooks and a Lady," were as follows: Miller (a crook), Stanley Williams; Lucille (the inside of the job), Agnes Sutherland; Justina Simms-Vane (the lady), Lynn Hilton; Miss Jones, her companion, Kathleen Beasley; the inspector, Moran Brethour. The scene was laid at the home of Mrs. Simms-Vane, Fifth Avenue, New York.

During the interval between the plays, Miss Sheila Allard danced, and four pupils of the public school, who had been coached by Miss Gwen Noel at short notice, daneed a Dutch dance, and all were well received.

The comedy, "Spreading the News," included the magistrate, William Morson, policeman, Marvin Haukedal; Mrs. Tarpey, an orange seller, Margaret Dunn; James Ryan, Walter Scott; Mrs. Mary Fallon, Alice Hurford; Jack Smith, Angus Galloway; Tim Casey, Stuart Wood, Shawn Early, Gordon Bell; Mrs. Tully, Olive Anderton. "Spreading the News" all took place on the outskirts of the village green during the fair. The theatre was well filled, and the proceeds go towards the Upper Island school sports to be held on June 1.

WAREHOUSE TO BE BUILT AT DUNCAN

Trackage Secured South of Station for Vancouver Milling and Grain Building

Trackage accommodation will be used by the Vancouver Milling & Grain Company in connection with its new warehouse at Duncan, to be built on the Indian Reserve, just south of the Trunk Road crossing of the Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway.

The warehouse, for which the Dominion Construction Company has the contract, will be built at a cost of about $10,000. The warehouse, one hundred feet by eighty feet, is of slow burning mill construction, protected with galvanized corrugated iron. The roof will be flat and covered with four-ply pitch felt and gravel. Concrete foundations are designed to carry the heavy loads, and a special floor of edge-grain, kiln dried fir will be laid, providing a hard wearing surface.

On the west side of the structure will be offices, showrooms, egg-candling room, lavatories and cloakroom. There will also be a garage.

India has a movement for more modern railways.

Safe Blowers at Work in Nanaimo

NANAIMO, May 23.—Some time before daylight this morning the safe of the Imperial Oil Company's office on Townsite was blown open and its contents taken, consisting of some $250 in cash, and cheques totalling an equal amount, the total haul of the safe blowers being some $500. The safe was blown clear across the office and completely wrecked. Up to the present no clue has been found as to the identity of the culprits.

DEATH IS DUE TO SPEEDING

JURY IN COURTENAY INQUEST SAYS RATE WAS TOO FAST

Add Rider Recommending Immediate Work to Remedy Dangerous Curve on Highway

COURTENAY, May 23.—Nothing of a startling nature was revealed at the resumed inquest on the death of Lloyd Forsyth and Charles Alfred Hagen Hanson, before the coroner, Dr. McKee, here last night. It will be remembered that these youths met their death while proceeding from Alberni to a danee at the Imperial Pavilion at Royston on Saturday night, May 12. Last night's evidenee, however, showed that after stopping for beer at Qualicum, where two bottles each were consumed, the party again stopped at the Bowser beer parlor, when the youths found it necessary to drink three bottles each to satisfy their thirst. The jury's verdict said that the driver failed to negotiate a sharp turn in the road while traveling at too fast a rate of speed. The jurymen, R. Wilson, G. A. Small, R. G. Laver, C. F. Beard, Robert Duncan and George Spencer, added a rider to the effect that they are of the opinion that the scene of the accident is a dangerous section of the highway and recommend that the Provincial Government take immediate steps to remedy this.

MINER IS KILLED BY FALL OF ROCK

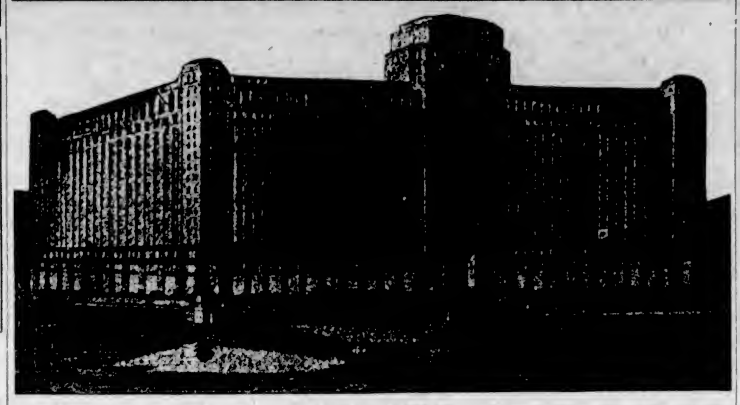

NANAIMO, May 23. — Andrew Slater, a miner employed in the Reserve Mine of the Western Fuel Company, met death this morning during the course of his employment by a fall of rock. Deceased was a native of Galicia, aged forty-seven years, and had resided in Nanaimo since 1916. He is survived by his widow and five children. The remains repose at Jenkins' Undertaking Parlors pending a coroner's inquest and completion of funeral arrangements.

SERVICE AT LANGFORD

Service on Sunday in St. Matthew's Church will be at 11 o'clock. The children's choir practice will be held in the church on Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock instead of Thursday.

South Africa's used-car problem is becoming more serious.

Chicago Merchandise Mart Huge Project

CHICAGO, May 15.—Chicago is to have a gigantic merchandise mart housed in its own building, which will be twice the size of the largest business building in the world. This mammoth structure, two city blocks in length, eighteen to twenty-three stories high, is planned for the service and convenience of merchandise buyers of the world. It will cost $30,000,000. Construction will begin immediately.

Within the walls of this huge edifice the retail merchants of the United States, Canada and foreign countries will be able to see, under one roof, hundreds of lines of the world's best merchandise.

The project will be the largest single development of "air rights"—the privilege of building over railroad tracks. The property of the new building, except for caissons, begins twenty-three feet above "datum."

This great mart, which will house sales quarters and merchandise displays of several hundred of the country's foremost manufacturers, wholesalers and importers, will be located in the rapidly developing new river district, and will occupy a distinctly conspicuous position just across the river from Wacker Drive at Wells Street, where the southern facade of the structure will be visible for blocks. The site was formerly that of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway Company's passenger station. The building will extend 724 feet on Kinzie Street, 577 feet on the river front and 324 feet on Wells Street, with a diagonal frontage facing Orleans and Franklin Streets. It will be set back from the river about eighty feet to accomodate a broad upper level drive extending from Wells to Franklin. The main entrance of the building will face the river and the drive.

FLOOR SPACE GREAT

The Merchandise Mart will have a total floor space of about 4,000,000 square feet, as compared with slightly less than 2,000,000 square feet, which is the floor area of the Furniture Mart, the next largest building. Each of the eighteen main floors will have an area of more than 200,000 square feet.

The manufacturers' exhibits will include textiles, ready-to-wear, toys, laces, gloves, corsets, millinery, silverware, glass, rugs, knit goods, hosiery, shoes, men's wear, fancy goods, sport goods, art and antiques, jewelry, trunks, toilet articles, house furnishings, office equipment and scores of other merchandise displays.

On all floors of the mart will be great corridors with all the appearance of boulevards, more than 650 feet in length, on either side of which will be the shops displaying their varied lines—veritable "business streets." These great corridors will be impressively treated architecturally, and with the large space available it will be possible to house the leading activities and warehousing of many allied concerns on one floor, thus attaining the advantages of concentrated groupings.

FACILITIES EXTENSIVE

Probably no building in the world will have such facilities for receiving and shipping merchandise as the new Merchandise Mart. The entire ground level below the street floor will be a modern freight station. Private tracks for incoming carload freight will extend under the centre of the building. The Chicago & Northwestern Railway will operate an inbound freight station for less than carload lots, as well as an outbound station, which will connect with all other roads through its new proviso yards. The merchandise as it comes into this big freight station will be loaded into high-speed conveyors and transported immediately to the exact floor and aisle of the merchant for whom it is intended.

Connection will be made with the Illinois Tunnel Company's system of freight transportation, which has more than sixty miles of tracks beneath the streets and buildings of the city, reaching all other railroad terminals. A river dock for vessels will connect with the south freight elevators of the building.

One of the interesting features planned for the mart will be a Merchants' Club in the tower of the building, with lounging rooms, reading and smoking rooms, where the retailer may relax and meet his friends. The mart will provide the retailer with everything but a place to sleep. He may go direct from the train to the mart with his baggage. Here his hotel reservations will be taken care of, his baggage transported to his hotel and placed in his room. Restaurants, lunch rooms and grills in the mart will further economize his time. He will have the facilities of a barber shop and a branch postoffice, telegraph office, and public stenographers will afford him the opportunity to handle his correspondence without leaving the building. One of the biggest telephone exchanges in the world will be installed in the mart.

Many other unique features are being considered, including an assembly hall, where trade meetings, business conferences, and fashion shows may be held from time to time. As the plans are worked out many other novel features may be decided upon.

ANSWER TO YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE

The Luckiest Lady

By RUBY M. AYRES

THE STORY THUS FAR:

Biddy Saunders—the Little Flapper—always called Marna Paget, her young adopted mother, the Luckiest Lady. For what could any woman want that Marna did not possess—beauty, wealth, and the love of a devoted husband? But Marna was not happy. She had married George Paget, who adored her, without loving him. Three months after the wedding she had met Hugh Hubbard and given him her heart. Hugh fled to China. Now, after five years, he is home, and he and Marna find their love for each other stronger than ever.

IV—"I CAN'T BEAR IT!"

A few nights before Hugh Hubbard went away, the Pagets gave a dance.

"When you are a little older I shall give a dance for you," Marna told the Little Flapper as she sat on the side of the bed for a few minutes before saying good-night to her. The Little Flapper squeezed her hand.

"Who are you giving it for this time, then?" she asked interestedly. Marna did not answer at once. She sat staring down at the toe of her dainty slipper, her lips set tightly. Then she gave a sigh that ended in a half laugh.

"Well, I suppose in a way it's for Mr. Hubbard—for Hugh," she said. "You see, he goes away next week."

"Are you sorry?" the Little Flapper asked.

"Sorry?" Marna looked away across the room. "I'm always sorry when people go away."

"Tomorrow night you shall come and peep over the balusters," she promised. "And you may leave your door open, so you can hear the music. We're going to have a lovely band."

"Are we?" The Little Flapper always included herself in the family now, although it was only five months since that wet night in the rain when the woman whom she had known as Mother had been killed. But the Little Flapper seldom looked back to those days; love and happiness had already wiped them almost completely from her mind.

"I'm so happy," she once told Harnigan—"so happy that sometimes I think I shall burst!"

"I shouldn't do that if I were you, miss," Harnigan said reprovingly.

The Little Flapper chuckled.

"Why not?" she inquired, and knew beforehand then answer she would receive.

"Because it would be degrading to burst," Harnigan said. But tonight Biddy was not feeling quite so happy as usual, as she lay there in the bed that still made her feel as if she were floating on a cloud, and looked up at Marna's face, a little pale, it seemed, in spite of the fact that she was trying to smile. It made Biddy feel as if there was a crumpled rose leaf in her bed, a very tiny crumpled rose-leaf, certainly, but still, it was there!

"What frock are you going to wear?" she asked eagerly.

"I've got a new frock for tomorrow," Marna said. "It's blue."

"You look lovely in blue," the Little Flapper said.

"And it's got a frilly skirt," Marna went on. "And I've got a big fan to match."

"You'll look lovely!" the Little Flapper said earnestly.

"Do you think so?" Marna rose from the side of the bed. "I hope I shall," she added, with a sudden note of passion. "I hope I shall. I want to!"

And so she was beautiful—by far the most beautiful of all the beautiful ladies in the room, so Biddy thought, when, late the following evening, long after she ought to have been in bed and asleep, she hung over the balusters, trembling with excitement, gazing down at the throngs of people passing to and fro across the hall.

The Little Flapper's heart ached with love as her adoring eyes followed Marna to and fro. She was so sweet to everyone; she seemed to make everyone feel that they were the one person in the world whom she had wanted to see, and whom she was delighted to welcome.

George Paget stood beside her, very smiling and well-groomed, his monocle on a black silk ribbon—which intrigued the Little Flapper immensely, for as a rule he wore it attached to a thin cord—and his hearty voice rising above all the chatter and laughter.

"How are you? Delighted to see you! Am I going to dance—eh? Well, it's not much in my line, but to please Marna, don'tcherknow—"

That was like him—to please Marna was all he lived for. And then the band—how perfectly wonderful it was! There was one tune in particular that touched the Little Flapper's heart and made her want to cry. It was a waltz, so she discovered afterwards—a haunting, sensuous waltz tune that haunted her for days afterwards.

It was long past midnight when she heard it played, and she knew that she ought to have gone back to bed some time ago, but—well, it was so fascinating clinging to the balusters and looking down on the crowd, that she could not tear herself away.

But at this particular moment the big hall was deserted; everyone seemed to be dancing in the long drawing-room, though now and then a couple—tired, perhaps, or wanting to talk—wandered across the hall and out into the big conservatory, which was full of lovely flowers and lit with shaded lamps.

Presently Marna came, with Hugh Hubbard. They were not arm-in-arm, as some of the others had been; they were walking a pace apart, almost as if they were not very friendly, and when they reached the foot of the big staircase Marna stood still, and the Little Flapper heard her say:

"This time next week you will have gone, Hugh."

"Yes."

Hubbard was standing with his hands clenched behind him, and his face looked all white and queer. "As if he wanted to cry," the Little Flapper told herself, with a sudden pang of unexplained compassion. Then Marna laughed.

"You'll be glad to go?" she asked lightly.

He did not reply to that, and she said again:

"You're not very polite. You might at least pretend to be sorry to leave—us—all!"

There was a queer little breathless pause between each of the last three words.

"There is no need for me to pretend—you know that," Hugh Hubbard answered. And then for a moment they looked at one another silently, and the Little Flapper's heart began to thump in a scared sort of way, and she wanted to move and run back to bed, only she was afraid that if she did the stairs would creak and they would hear her; so she just stood very still, clutching the polished baluster-rail with both trembling hands.

And downstairs the band was still playing that haunting, heart-breaking tune, and Marna and Hugh Hubbard were looking at one another as if—as if—the Little Flapper did not know what it was that she could see written in their tragic faces, though it vaguely reminded her of a scene in a stage-play—something which always kept an audience quiet, and sometimes made them cry. Then Marna said in a high-pitched, unnatural little voice:

"Well, shall we dance?"

And Hugh Hubbard put his arm round her, and they took a few steps together, Marna's head a little downbent against his shoulder, as if she was either very tired or very sad, and Hugh Hubbard's steady eyes, hard as if with resentful pain, carefully avoiding looking at her.

Then suddenly they stopped, as if by mutual consent, falling a pace apart again, and the Little Flapper heard Marna say, as if she had reached the end of all endurance, and could bear no more:

"So it's all over, Hugh—all over!" And then in a voice that was not like her voice at all, but like the voice of someone in mortal pain:

"Oh, I can't bear it—I can't bear it!" And Hugh Hubbard made no answer; he just looked and looked at her, with his face all white and quivering, till she broke out once more:

"Oh, don't go—don't go! Don't leave me alone again!" And the anguish in her voice seemed to stop the Little Flapper's heart, and to rob her of all power of movement, and for a moment the whole world seemed to stop, too, holding its breath until Hugh Hubbard answered that broken cry in a voice just as despairing and hopeless:

"Marna—for God's sake—don't you think I'm suffering, too?"

But that was all, for at that moment the music stopped, and people began to stream out into the hall from the ballroom, and in an instant Marna was herself again, smiling and self-possessed, and Hugh Hubbard turned away and began to talk to someone else who came up to him; but the Little Flapper fled upstairs and into bed, sobbing, though she did not in the least understand why, and the world went rolling on once more.

* * * * *

And a week later Hugh Hubbard went away; at least, the Little Flapper supposed he had gone, because he did not come to the house any more; and then Marna caught a bad chill, and was so ill that she had to go to bed, and when she got better George Paget took her away to the South of France, and they stayed away a whole month.

And then they came home, and though Marna was still a little thin and pale, she seemed almost her old self again—and life went on as it had done before, except that Hugh Hubbard was not there, and that his name was hardly ever mentioned until one day George Paget said cheerily:

"Never heard from that blighter Hubbard, have we? Odd that he's never written—eh, Marna? Don't-cher think so?"

"Why should he write?"

Marna's voice was quite calm and controlled, but she loked away from her husband as she answered him, and only the Little Flapper's loving eyes saw the sudden bleak look of pain that swept across her face.

DICKENS CLUB MEETS

Interesting Papers Read and Musical Numbers Enjoyed—Presentation Made to President

The May meeting of the Victoria Dickens Club took place at the home of the Misses Wyles, 1388 Begbie Street. Mrs. Wyles assisted her daughters in receiving the many guests and members of the society. Two papers of a Dickensian character were given during the evening's programme, the first being "An Apology for the Inaccuracies in the Famous Pickwick Papers as to Dates and Periods," which was read by a member, Mr. R. Stuart, who took up the cudgels in the great author's defence against the arguments and data deduced by Mr. McKinnon in his article, "The Chronology of Pickwick," which appeared in The Cornhill Magazine some time ago.

A most interesting and intimate address by Mr. Perry, a guest of the club, was greatly appreciated by everyone present, especially those who, besides being readers of Dickens, are also well acquainted with the subject of Mr. Perry's able talk, "Wanderings in Pickwickian Kent," as were many of those who listened to the address.

Mr. Perry actually lived in the heart of the Dickensian country and spent the earlier part of his life at the famous Manor Farm, the original of "Dingley Dell." A hearty vote of thanks was given to Mr. Perry for his remarks and descriptions of the scenes of the events recorded in "The Pickwick Papers."

After musical numbers by Miss E. Wyles and Miss G. Shrapnel, who kindly obliged with several selections on the piano, the presentation of a handsome leather attache case was made to Mr. C. C. Pemberton, the president of the Victoria Dickens Club, it being, although not the actual day, very close to being the president's birthday. Mrs. Patt, the vice-president of the club, made the presentation on behalf of the fellowship. The treasurer and the secretary were also surprised by gifts of bouquets.
